Society accepts that there are two purposes to education: to discover who you are and to develop what you are. Discovering has excitement and developing takes work.

Each of us is born with many talents and education should provide opportunities so that each can discover what these talents are. And society needs the variety of talents you have to offer. You may have a talent for music, a talent for understanding people, or a talent for handling large machines. With this discovery of our talents, each of us has a responsibility to develop what we are. We need to enhance these talents and acquire the skills of communicating, whether through speech, through mathematics, or through fixing carburetors.

It is no easy task to have the courage to discover who you are and then to become the best possible you. Growing is exciting and sometimes hurts a lot. The good news is that you needn't expect to be a finished product at the end of your schooling; education takes a lifetime, and no one is ever finished with discovering and developing.

At Glenlawn, we have tried to give you a broad range of experiences through our course offerings and extracurricular opportunities. I hope you have taken the opportunity to learn about yourself and that you have worked to develop those special skills and talents that make you the special person that you are.

I know that Glenlawn is an exciting school because of the kinds of people who are here, students and staff. To each of you, thank you for your contribution. And to the graduates, my best wishes.

Mrs. Victoria Olchowecki, Principal

As I thought about the past year and the many events that stood out in my mind as notable I reflected on a quotation I recently read by William Henry Hudson.

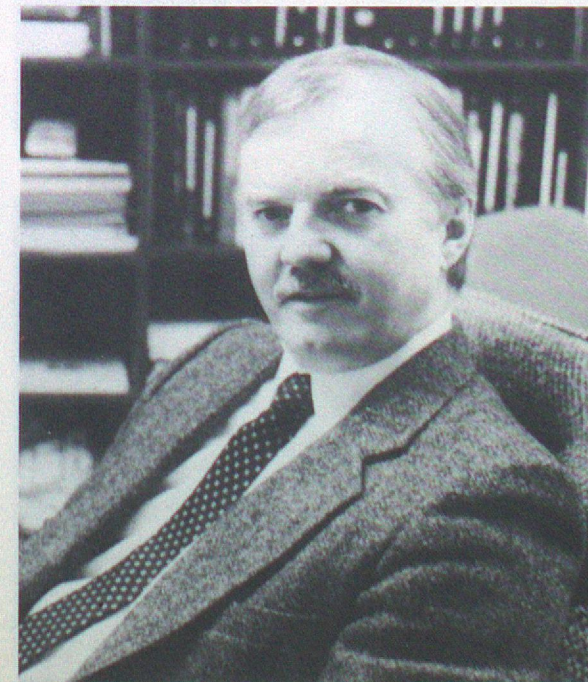

"When I hear people say they have not found the world and life so agreeable or interesting as to be in love with it, I am apt to think they have never been properly alive nor seen with clear vision the world they think so meanly of, or anything in it-not even a blade of grass".

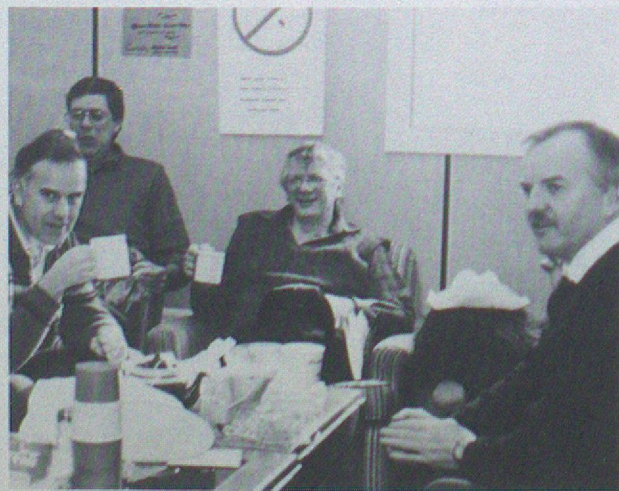

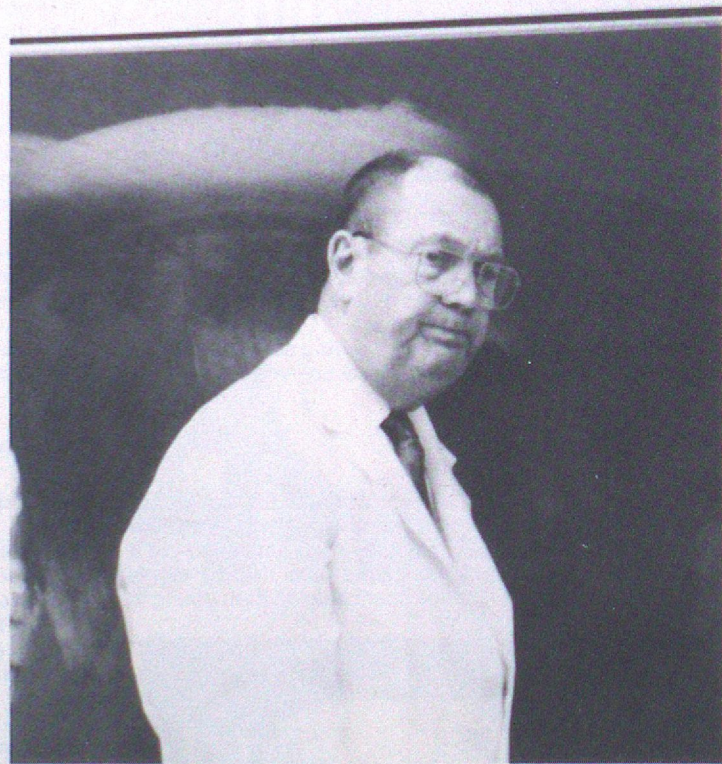

I have to believe that jointly staff, students and parents in the Glenlawn Community have worked together to make our school a caring place full of enjoyable and interesting activities.

Our staff have tried to challenge you to contemplate both the very minute of detail and the most general and global of issues. You have done us proud by rising to these challenges. I know that our graduates will face with confidence the opportunities in life that are placed before them. I also know that they have acquired through different activities that we have shared with them.

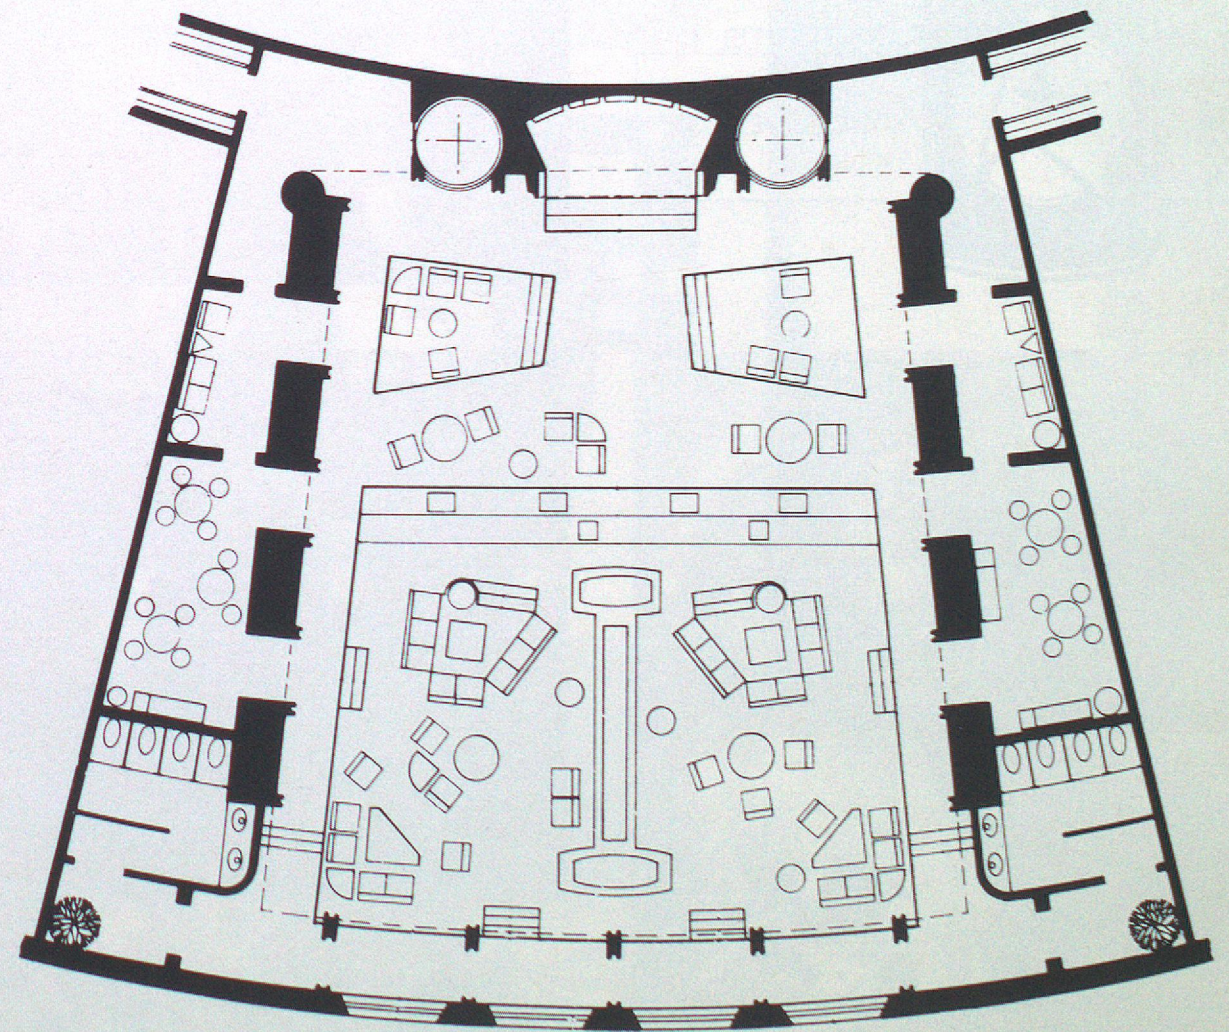

I encourage all Glenlawn students to look at life with clear vision and hope that they appreciate the many positive contributions that they can make to their fellow man, no matter how great or how small. -Good Luck!

Mr. Brian Thorarinson, vice-principal

HALLOWE'EN

Well, no one said we had to do this test by ourselves.

Take one sip, see if I care!

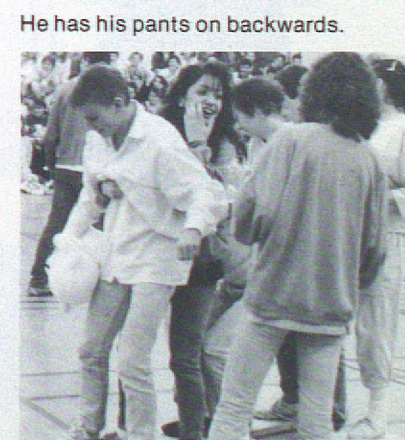

And this is Lake Manitoba.

No, no, wrong grade you idiot!

If they get this excited about garbage, I wonder how they would react to fresh food?

He has his pants on backwards.

Boy, what we gotta do ta get Scott Sime to class.

It would appear as if someone has skipped Mr. Kullman's Bio class.

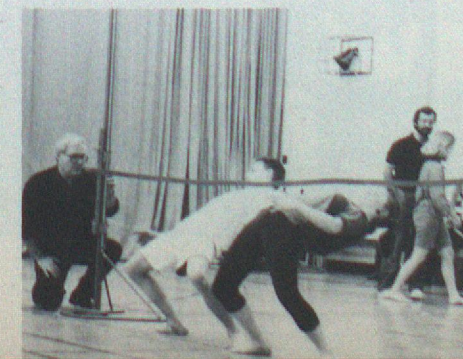

I must be losing weight, my pants are falling!

I wish she would buy gas!

Alright, alright, I'll take the test.

Grade 12's can have a party anywhere.

That's the best version of O Canada I've heard in years!

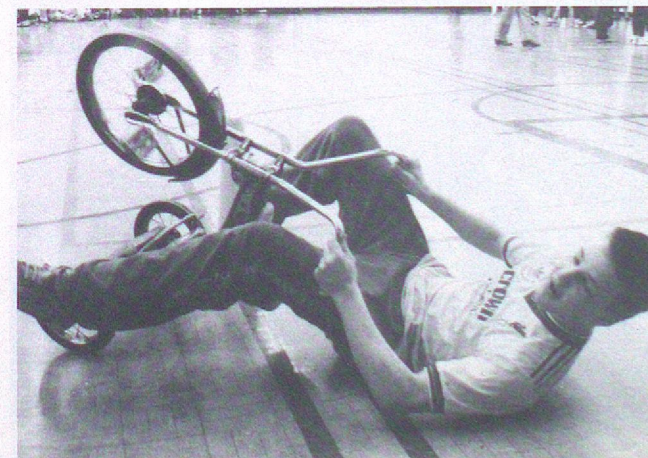

Thank God, the camera didn't catch my training wheels.

Glenlawn's true school spirit shone through in SPIRIT WEEK '88. Spirit Week was met with astounding enthusiasm, and success. The Rookies had a chance to witness true spirit, as shown by the Grade 11's, and the Pros, Grade 12's. Although there were minor setbacks with rules, which led to the cancellation of a game, the week was a great boost for Glenlawn School spirit. The Grade 11's came in first, the Grade 12's second, and the Grade 10's third. Good luck in your future years, Grade 10's.

This year was very memorable for many reasons. At every practice we heard BOOM BOOM playing and we soon got sick of that song. At the tournament in Brandon a group of four girls went trick or treating (as football players). Mrs. Bradshaw made them give her some of the candies as payment? Some people never got up on time on Saturday mornings for tournaments (hint No. 5). Then there was someone who sped down Grant Ave. at 100Km/h to get to the McDonald's first (hint No. 11). Most especially there was Diane's awesome spike that went into the net, ripped a hole and stayed there suspended while everyone was laughing and didn't know what to do! In all it was a great season and everyone had fun. We played well in all of our tournaments finishing 2nd out of 10 in Selkirk. 3rd out of 16 in Brandon and a 3rd place finish in the cloverleaf. We were ranked in the top 10 in the province throughout most of the season and at the end of the season we were 11th. We played the 6th ranked team in the first round of provincials and won making it to the final 8 before losing to Selkirk in a tough game.

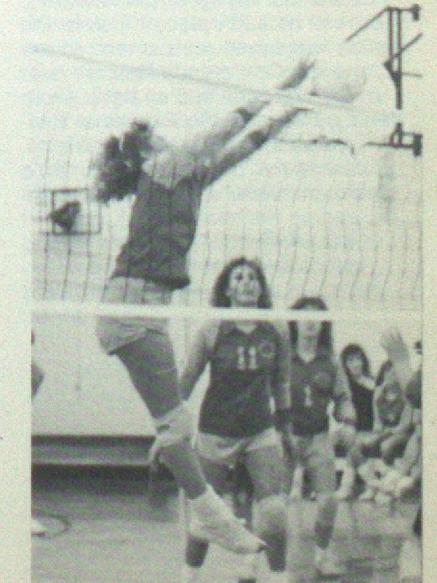

Thanks to our faithful coach Mrs. Bradshaw for an excellent season and good luck next year.

P.S. Thanks for the round of milkshakes.

In the Cloverleaf Conference final we beat Vincent Massey in 3 straight. From there we went to the Provincial tournament, we seeded 9th. We defeated the 7th seeded St. John's team, but were stopped from there on, ending the season ranked 7th in the province. The team's strong points were hard work and determination along with a lot of talent and depth.

VARSITY BOYS' BASKETBALL

The Varsity Boys' basketball team had an interesting season this year. They finished 3rd in the competitive Cloverleaf Conference, losing a tough semifinal game to Vincent Massey. They participated in several tournaments throughout the season. CHILDHOOD

The wind howled fiercely that lonely night, and the house was empty and cold.
She clung to her teddy and held it tight,
For she was only six years old.

Her parents had gone to a social affair,
And left me in charge of their girl.
She felt they were cold and did not care,
That she was alone in the world.

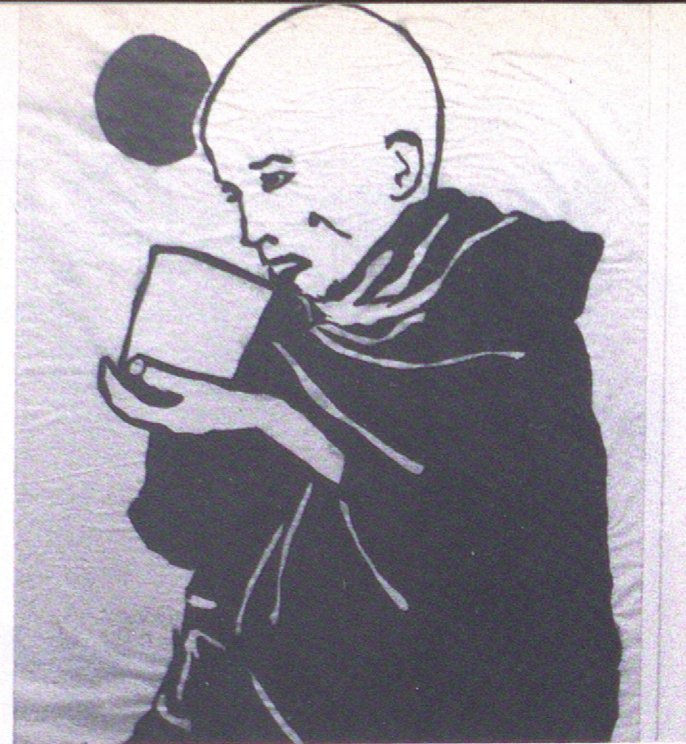

Then she yelled out a horrible scream.
She sat Screeching and crying in bed.
I ran to her saying it was only a dream.
Her face was wet, Blotched, and red.

I cradled her in my arms for awhile,
And when she was almost asleep,
I looked down and saw a sort of a smile,
And then I began to weep.

My parents had done the same to me.
Nothing I did was praised.
They did not care enough to see,
Just how their child was raised.

NIGHT FLIGHT

Alone among writhing hordes,
She stand, eyes skyward-piercing into the night,
As the music flows and floats around her,
-Gently moving her
As she soars through the nightshade amongst the blinding stars.
Alone in the thronging mob,
-The heaving animal, Synthetic reverence,
shallowly worshipping
The empty idol, hollow statue-prancing about the stage.

-Faulty broken love-.....no depth.....
no emotion.....no pain.....no purpose
Alone she stands weaving through the stars,
Music-the only truth to be found, pure love-
Under the welcoming black, velvet sky.
Pouring forth in swaying rhythms, surrounding her
Tender caressing,-comfortable its only listener
Lifting her off to higher worlds-dreams of silent ecstasy.

His sorrowful song blinds her within a trance,
The musics fabric living, breathing within her.
Around her the unhearting mass, thirsting throughthrash about to reach the stage.
Then leaping as a hunger ravished predator upon weakened prey, they surge forward,
Obliviously crushing under the haunting girl
And stare in horror,
As the lonely boy vanishes upon the stage.

A TEAR

What is a tear?

A tear is the infant's way to tell us what he needs.

It's the child's way of receiving love when he has a bump or a bruise on his knee.

What is a tear?

A tear is the outpouring of one's emotions.
It can express the frustration and anger built up inside that finally pours out
It can express the sentimental touch of a card sent by a friend

It can express the sorrow of a lost loved one
It can be found in a lover's quarrel or in the betrayal of a close friend

It can express the pure joy of a new baby or new found friend

A tear can mean happiness or sorrow, hate or love, frustration or victory.

What is a tear?

A tear is a tiny drop of feeling coming from the depths of one's heart

OLD AND ALONE

He sits alone
 In his eight by ten plaster prison,
 His body withered and grey
 Like wrinkled cloth.
 Laugh lines in his face
 Have long since
 Been covered by age.
 He remembers,
 When his children left home,
 Grown up, eager to face life.
 And when the stinging tears ran down his face.
 As he watched his wife slip away.
 His heart skips a beat everytime
 The door to his room opens,
 Hoping to see a familiar face.
 But no one's coming today.
 He sighs,
 Puts his face in his hands
 And cries.

For three days in late May, five students from Glenlawn attended the fourth national PRIDE Conference in Ottawa. Glenlawn's PRIDE group is organized through the Counselling Office, and is directed by Mrs. EMBERLEY.

"Friends Like These" is a student initiated project in which 6 students from Gr. 11 and 12 researched, wrote, and performed a puppet play. This play was specifically designed to promote mainstreaming and acceptance towards special needs students. The puppets were made by Pat Dodd, a student's mother, and each puppet was given a specific disability. Danny has Downs, Darlene is deaf, Bobby has a heart defect, Beth was blind, Charlie had cerebral palsy. Jamie was the only puppet that didn't have a disability. A character named Mrs. Lee played by a person was the puppet's teacher. The play, called "A Piece of Cake," was about a variety show that the kids put on and how each child overcomes their disability to participate in the show. The troupe performed at a majority of the elementary schools in Winnipeg from grades k to 9. The students put in a great deal of work but it was worth it. The students involved were: Daniel Baker, Shelly Vandenberghe, Cynthia Thiessen, Tammy Gall, Leanne Lauder, and Christine Brabant.

Was this year fantastic or what? All the nervous breakdowns were well worth it! Dances were a huge success-Glenlawn definitely knows how to have fun! Cupid Courier was fun and hilarious and was worth all the agony of running around three days before C.C. trying to find something to deliver! Pep Week was an absolute smash! Glenlawn has never seen such spirit with grades so closely matched and equally talented. For the first time ever, Glenlawn had a Social with live bands who rocked the ceiling off the Coliseum! The year was a definite success without too many catastrophes except for the untimely departure of our beloved vice prez!

As we the grads of '88 look ahead, I don't mind saying that I've spent some of the best years of my life here and it's hard to say good-bye, to so many great friends. Good luck to you and best wishes for your future.

STARDATE 88

Parents, teachers, and the graduating class of '88.

Tonight is a very important night in all of our lives. It is a night when we look back at our memories, and ahead to our future. This night closes a period in time with which we have become comfortable and familiar. It will open the door for a future, not so comfortable or familiar but with the knowledge and experience that we have acquired over the years, we are now ready to take the next step in our lives.

For this great accomplishment, there are many people responsible: our teachers, friends, families, and lastly ourselves. Our teachers have provided us with knowledge but this knowledge was accumulated through a long period of time. When we came to Glenlawn in 1985, we were the little kids on the block and everything was so new to us. The school was so big, and there were so many kids, that we believed we would never get thru the first day. As we found the way to our classes we met our teachers. In those first classes, they told us what they expected of us, the work that we would have to do, and what we would be learning. The workload and their expectations seemed enormous to us, but through the year assignments, tests and exams, came and went. When the year was over, we were amazed to see how fast it had gone, and the work that the teachers had given us didn't seem so bad. In that year the teachers had exposed us to knowledge that we never realized existed. We learned about life and ourselves.

Over the years, we have learned a lot about our teachers too. We know stories about bear hunting, spouses and children and crooked fingers, although there are many different versions to that story! We have heard about their "good old days" when they seemed to be in more trouble than we have ever been in. And some history teachers have a flare for acting out the political party policies, a very likely way to impart a lesson.

Our teachers have shown us to look beyond the surface, to observe, understand and to form an opinion on a subject. They have given us the knowledge and understanding that will enable us to succeed in the future.

Over the three years we have been at Glenlawn, the relationships that we had with each other have become strong friendships that will last for a lifetime. We have shared everything from gossip to money, lockers, textbooks, notebooks, and homework. At exam-time, you could always count on a fellow student being able to help you, and after the exam, feeling that you had failed, you could always go to somebody and get the reassurance that you hadn't.

For a break in the school year, we had spirit week, another demonstration of students supporting students. During this week, we all cheered when Grand Beach was transported to the Grade 12 section in the colosseum, and when our entry in the tricycle race turned out to be a motorized 3-wheeler. And our banner certainly was the best one there, even though we didn't place first.

Every Christmas Mr. Kullman's Christmas tree disappears, another example of student power. We had all planned and schemed for weeks to find out the best way to steal it. At one point it was successfully hidden under the stage. Of course it was always returned later when Mr. Kullman's threats became very serious.

Yes, and relationships were very important to us. Many of our breaks were spent congregating at the lockers. Everybody's pastime was decorating locker doors with favorite comic strip characters. Calvin and Hobbes turned out to be in first place with The Far Side running a close second. Of course we were often late for class because of these locker meetings but we all know that the information gathered here was much more important than biology class.

We have been successful in many of our undertakings. The athletes have once again completed a very successful year in all areas. In such areas as track and field, basketball, volleyball, curling, and others Glenlawn has shown that it has the ability to succeed. Our school choir and band have claimed many awards for Glenlawn. The Student Council has organized many activities such as dances, and spirit week for the student body and the yearbook committee is making sure that we remember everything. Glenlawn is also full of many talented actors and actresses as we saw in the play "Anything Goes". I would like to thank and congratulate these students for all their extra effort in making our school year that much more enjoyable.

Our parents have been a big support to us. They come out to the school functions and cheer us on. At home, I'm sure that they have proofread more than one paper in our high school careers and have wracked their brains trying to solve a math problem for us. And how many times have they had to wake us up in the mornings when we have slept past our alarm? I know our parents are very proud to be here today and some may even be giving a sigh of relief now that we have finally reached this point. Thanks for all your love and support.

Our teachers and parents and peers have helped us along the way, but each student is responsible for his or her own graduation. We've pushed ourselves to stay in school, and to learn. We have a lot of determination and courage, a stubborn refusal to give up. When we had thought that we would never get a certain term paper in on time, or we knew that we hadn't studied enough for a test, it would have been easy for us to give up and not try anymore, but the students that are graduating tonight have not given up. They have had the courage and stubbornness to keep going. Our will to learn has prepared us for the world outside of high school and our stubbornness will enable us to overcome any obstacle in the future. In Grade 10 when we came to Glenlawn, we were like little lost sheep; now as we graduate from High School we have become individuals. We have our own personalities and our own dreams, and we are now one step closer to being able to fulfill these dreams.

Our time at Glenlawn has come to an end. I wish the students in Grades 10, 11 and 12 of next year the very best of luck, and I hope that they will have as much fun as we have had over the years.

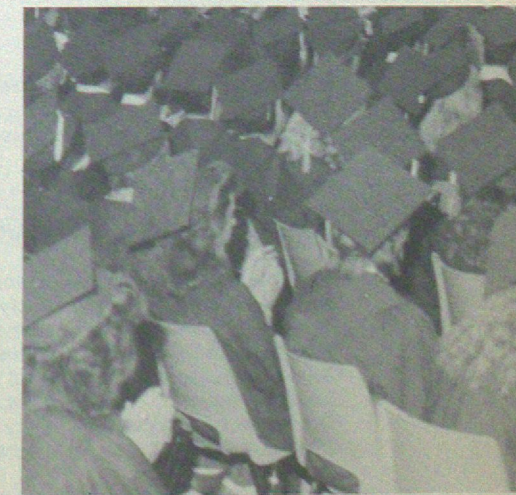

To our teachers: I would like to thank you for giving us the ability and the need to learn.

To our families and friends: Thank you for supporting us through the years. It has been greatly appreciated.

To my graduating class: I wish to congratulate you and wish you all the best in the future. As we step out into the world in our chosen professions, let Glenlawn reflect on our standards, and let our standards be excellence.

Thank you.

The Man In The Glass

When you get what you want in your struggle for self.
And the world makes you king for the day.
Just go to the mirror and look at yourself.
And see what that man has to say.

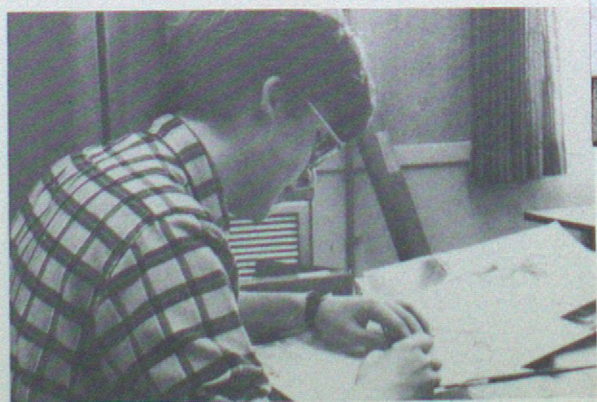

For it isn't your father or mother or wife
Whose judgement upon you must pass.
The fellow whose verdict counts most in your life is the one staring back from the glass.

He's the fellow to please, never mind all the rest.
For he's with you clear up to the end.
And you've passed the most dangerous difficult test.
If the man in the glass is your friend.

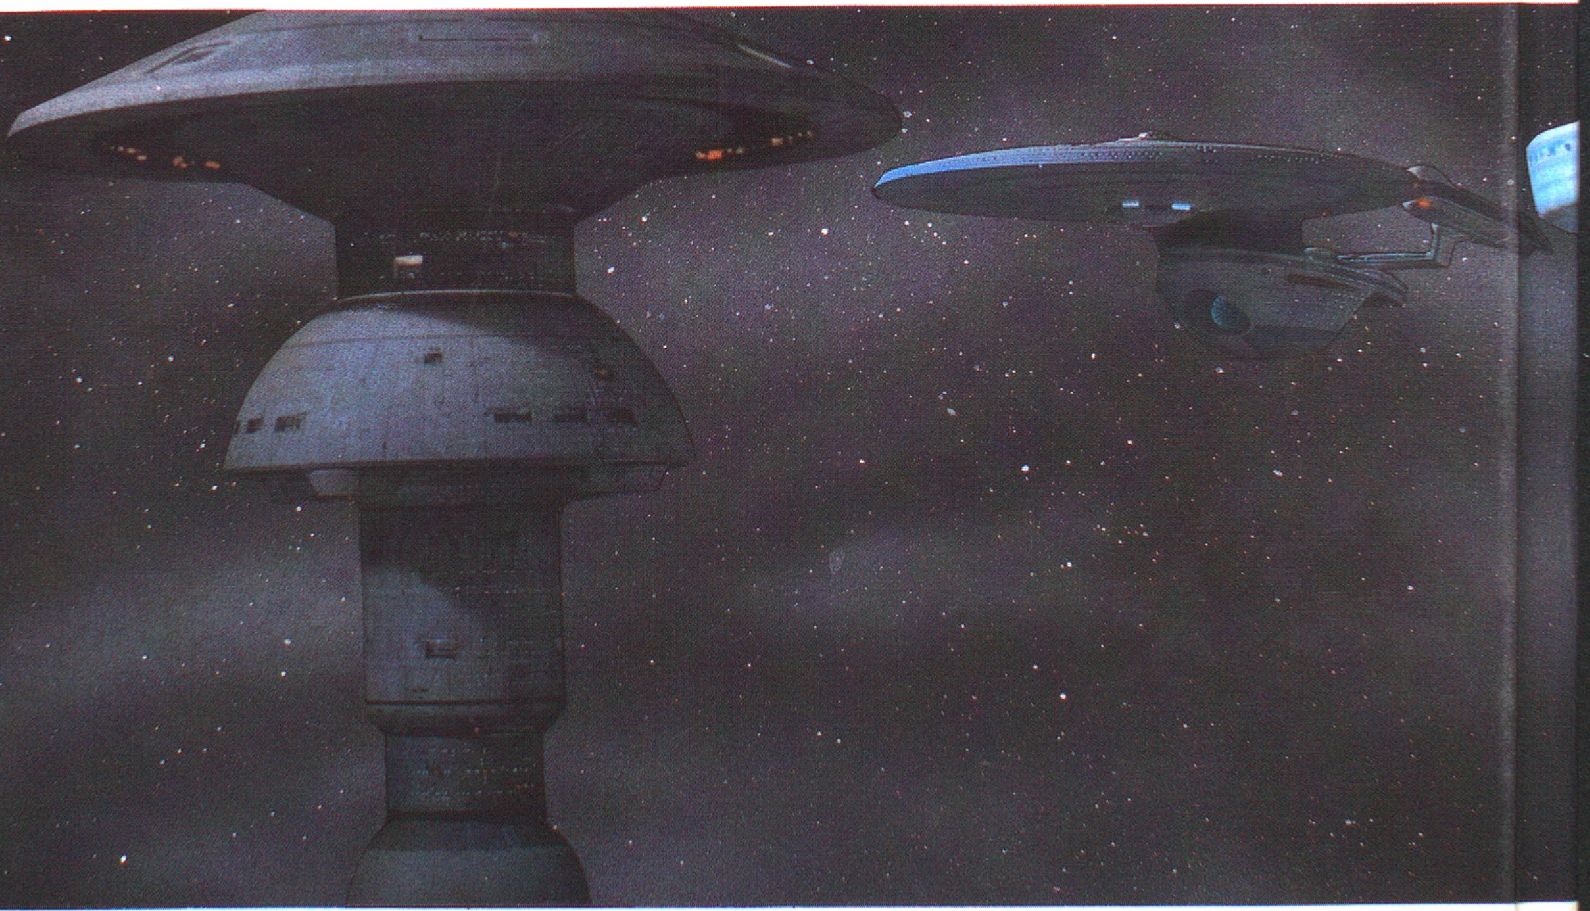

You may fool the whole world down
the pathway of life.
And get pats on the back as you pass.
But your final reward will be heartaches and tears.
If you've cheated the man in the glass.
