PATHWAY TO THE FUTURE

I walk in search of my destined path,
Yet I know not what I look for.
I yearn for paths of golden treasures,
Yet gold can turn to leaden ore.

Some paths can lead to the finest silks,
Yet threads will only mask my way.
Perfumes and smells allure my senses,
Yet I know they will never stay.

The path looked for is a simple path,
Yet with natural wealthiness.
Neither gold nor silver, threads nor scents,
Will bare me life-long happiness.

PRINCIPAL'S ADDRESS

It seems like yesterday that I arrived at Glenlawn. The years that I have served here--first as Vice-Principal and, most recently, as Principal--have been personally and professionally challenging and rewarding.

I have to admit that the feelings I have about leaving are extremely ambivalent. On the one hand, like our graduates, I feel anxious, and a little worried about my friends and colleagues who are staying behind. We have been through a lot together, and in the process we have created a brand new vision for the Glenlawn of the future. As well, it is difficult to leave the school community where all aspects of school spirit are so strong.

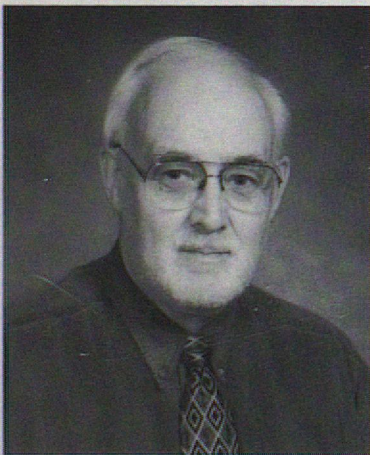

On the other hand, leaving means new opportunities, challenges, and new experiences. By taking the valuable lessons of life we have learned together and utilizing them appropriately to address these new challenges, we can surely move on with a great deal of confidence.

I could not have been prouder of a group of young people as I have been over the past few years as I have watched your resolve and determination to make the best out of some very difficult times. It is with that resolve and determination that we move on in continuing the strong traditions at Glenlawn, and, for those of us leaving, to incorporate those skills and talents in all our future efforts.

To use a famous quote from Winston Churchill after the first major Allied victory of World War II, "Now, let us not conclude that this is the end, or even the beginning of the end...but surely it can be said that this is the end of the beginning."

Good luck!

-B. Thorarinson

Each year, as an administrator at Glenlawn, I am obliged to write a few words for the "benefit of the student body. I find the task, (to be perfectly honest), difficult. Anything I might say, you have undoubtedly heard before in one form or another.

This year let's just acknowledge, together, that we have a fine school - academically, athletically, and in the area of the fine arts. Together, staff, students and administration have created a learning environment where a student can feel 'safe and valued', and where he or she can pursue areas of interest in a caring and supportive atmosphere. We want to preserve and enhance this atmosphere, and I feel we can, together.

Each year brings changes to our school in the form of the loss of our graduation pupils, the arrival of young people from our junior high school neighbours, and changes in teaching staff and administration. One thing however remains constant and that is the tradition our school has established as an institution with impeccable credentials in the pursuit of excellence in all areas of the world of education.

Our mandate - all of us - is to continue that tradition - and I'm positive we'll be successful in doing just that.

A. Thomson
Vice-Principal

Nineteen-ninety-five was a great year, with many changes. We started the year with two-thirds of a building, and finished with four-thirds of a building. Staff and students worked this year while construction was going on around them and what a year! Our teams excelled in sports activities, our band won numerous gold and silver medals, our students excelled in academics and citizenship. This year certainly proves that with an optimistic attitude and teamwork, any adversity can be overcome. Mr. Thorarinson has accepted a position as assistant superintendent at the Board Offices. We are very proud of him and wish him well in his new position. A warm welcome to Mr. Cordingley, our new vice-principal. I know his skills and talents will compliment the administrative team. I am honored to be chosen as principal of Glenlawn, and am looking forward to the challenge next year. To our graduates, warm and best wishes in your future. To our undergraduates, I look forward to working with you.

Mrs. Bulow

Musical Annie

Glenlawn Collegiate opened its new performing arts facility with the production of the Broadway musical, Annie.

This year's cast of seventy was joined by Winnipeg actor, Mr. Stan Lesk, playing the role of Daddy Warbucks. This is the first time students have had the opportunity of working with a professional actor in the state-of-the-art facility.

The actors, actresses and supporting crew did an extremely fine job and were all excellent compliments to the new facility.

The Gymnasium

The new gymnasium at Glenlawn Collegiate caused some problems upon its initial use. Spectators had trouble concentrating on the athletic events while admiring this fantastic facility. Seriously, the students and staff of G.C.I. find classes, tournaments, games and just working out so much more enjoyable in this bright, not to mention huge new gym.

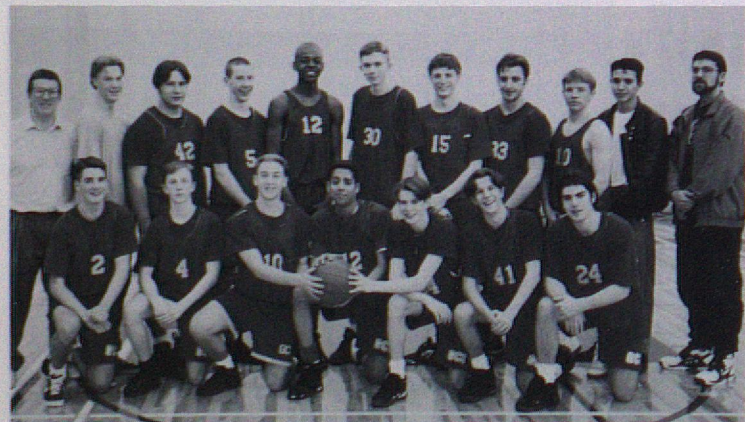

Three cross courts--volleyball, basketball, badminton--plus a regulation size basketball court comprise the main floor. On the mezzanine, weights, stationary bikes and stair climbers take up some space, leaving room for aerobics, dance and some classroom work. We love our new main floor changing rooms and storage area.

1994-95 marks the year that the new facility was opened to match the quality of programming and athletic teams at Glenlawn. Go Lions!

S.I.R. Council

The S.I.R. Council had a difficult time this year trying to plan activities to keep students active. There was no gym to be used however they did very well planning the Terry Fox Volleyball Tournament. Those who participated had a good time while raising money for a good cause as well. Thanks to both staff and students who came out to support Terry Fox. They also planned and organized a field day for Dr. Penner School, held a fundraiser bake sale and helped out during the opening of the new gym and fine art facilities. All members were dedicated workers and had a fun time too! Thanks to all who came out to help and the best of luck in the future.

Teens Peer Support

The T.O.P.S. Program is intended to provide students with the opportunity to gain experience in supportive and helping activities associated with the high school counselling program. Under the direction of the counsellors, specific activities T.O.P.S. participants may become involved in include:

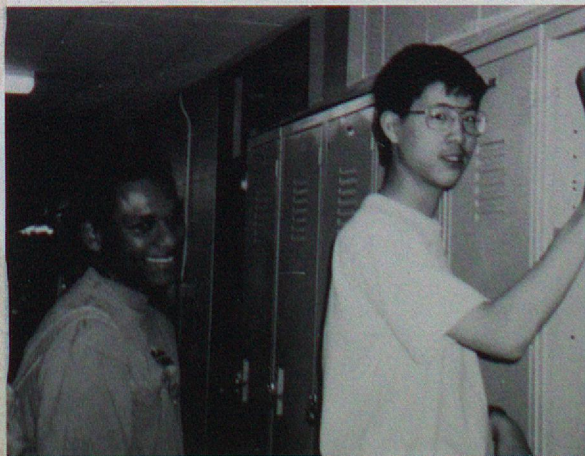

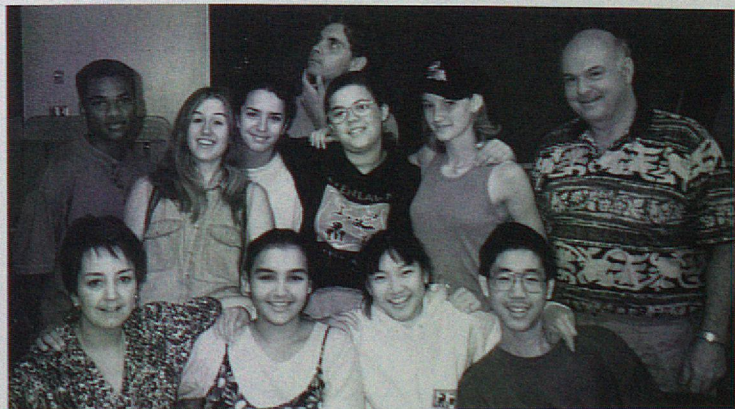

1) Training sessions on various pertinent topics affecting adolescents, such as eating disorders, blended families, alcohol/drug abuse, self-esteem, sexuality and dating relationships,

2) Listening to students with concerns, questions or problems with the objective of assisting them in determining options and accessing other assistance,

3) Acting as student supporters and mentors to students new to the school and to students needing short term personal support.

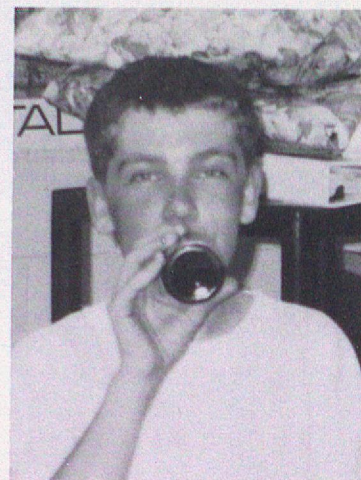

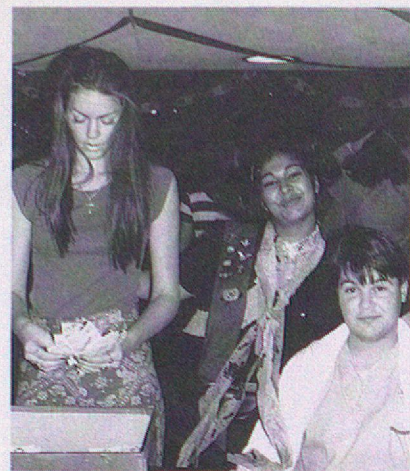

Students who have a genuine interest in helping their peers and who are willing to participate in training and practice sessions are welcome to join the T.O.P.S. Program.

Speaker's Bureau

The students on Speaker's Bureau this year invited a few guest speakers to Glenlawn to discuss important issues such as what goes on in University, saving sex until after marriage and a genetics symposium. These speakers came from all walks of life from students attending University to their professors and to police officers working for forensics. They gave us a variety of information and taught us not to be afraid of the "BIG WORLD" out there. We'll all remember Greg who yelled out in the hallway "My name is Greg and I'm still a virgin." He taught us not to be ashamed of ourselves and to speak our mind. All our speakers were very interesting and we hope they'll consider returning to Glenlawn once again.

GRADE TEN CHEER

Theme: We Will Rock You

***** 4 repeats of basic rhythm *****

We are the grade tens,
 We are the best,
 You'll never beat us,
 'Cause we never rest.
 Egg on your face,
 You're a big disgrace.
 We'll kick your butt
 All over the place;
 Singing,
 We will we will beat you,
 We will we will beat you.

***** 2 repeats of basic rhythm *****

We are the champions,
 We are the best,
 We have the spirit,
 That won't ever rest.
 Ice cream on your face,
 You're a big disgrace,
 Waving your banners,
 All over the place;
 Singing,
 We will we will beat you,
 We will we will beat you,
 We will we will beat you,
 We will we will beat you!

Spirit Week 11's

GRADE ELEVEN CHEER

Theme: Brady Bunch

Here's a story (OPEN A PRETEND BOOK) of a school named Glenlawn, who had 3 very spirited grades (WAVE ARMS IN THE AIR).

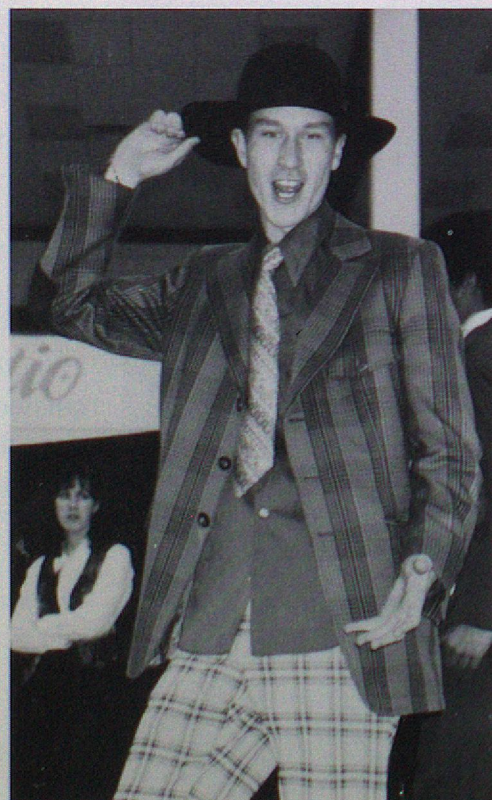

All of them fought for glory (ACTIONS OF BOXING). The grade 10's facing shame (HANG YOUR HEADS).

Here's a story about the grade 12's who had ideas (TAP YOUR HEAD); fighting for the win. They were struck down when met by competition, (CROSS ARMS IN AN X). They didn't have it made.

One day the grades all came together (PUT ARMS AROUND EACH OTHER) and they knew; it was much more than a hunch. The grade 11's outstood the rest (STAND UP); they were the best of the bunch. (WALK SLOWLY AND QUIETLY DOWN TO THE FLOOR STILL SINGING.)

The winning bunch, the winning bunch, that's how we became the winning bunch.

VALEDICTORIAN ADDRESS

Honoured guests, administration, staff, parents, friends and of course my fellow graduates. Today is our day. A day we have been preparing for for the last three years, but thought would never come. A day full of hope for the future but also a day to reflect on the work, determination and perseverance that is distinctly us-The Class of 1995.

Over the last three years, we have been given the opportunity to come together, to get to know one another and to build many friendships with each other. Although I cannot speak on behalf of everyone's individual experiences, there are a few memories that will be shared and forever etched in the minds of all those who are graduating today.

As unknowing Grade Tens, we were excited yet fearful of our new surroundings we were thrown head first into "this jungle of 1000 lions", and felt it necessary to cling to our junior high friends for support and security. But as time went on, our grasp on junior high loosened and we were able to meet new people and develop new friendships. Friendships that would last through the good times as well as the bad.

Although it has been said a thousand times before, I feel it necessary to mention the "F" word. That being the fire of 1993. From this disasterous event, the spirit discovered in our freshman year, helped to transcend all the feelings of anguish and anxiety and propelled us forward to focus our energy into the rebuilding of our new gymnasium and the new Fine Arts Facility. These two great additions officially opened May 25, 1995. With this new found energy, we also carried on the tradition of excellence in both the arts and athletic programs, with the many awards at Musicfest and the Optimist Festival, a provincial championship in Girls Rugby and Boys Soccer, and the production of the Broadway musical "Annie." These mentioned accomplishments extended the artistic and athletic successes of our Gr. 10 and 11 years.

The past three years have allowed us to participate in the many clubs, teams, plays and musical productions at G.C.I. As the Law of Conservation of Energy states: ENERGY IN EQUALS ENERGY OUT! And our energy was put to use with the annual hiding or should I say kidnapping of Mr. Kullman's Christmas tree, the competitive yet always friendly Terry Fox Volleyball Tournament and of course-Spirit Week. A time of laughter, spirit and fun.

To quote Mr. Thomson, we at Glenlawn Collegiate should consider ourselves "grateful for the priviledge of living in a country like Canada." Today's society poses many challenges. However, the human spirit is always attempting to move beyond the ravages of time--from the spread of AIDS to the Oklahoma bombing, from world hunger and terrorism to the existance of racism and discrimination within the world--the human spirit has proved its strength in places such as South Africa where Apartheid has been abolished and in people such as Elvis Stojko, who despite hardships, skated his way to an Olympic victory. As the youth of today, we too must overcome hardships and use our accomplishments to promote peace and unification throughout the world.

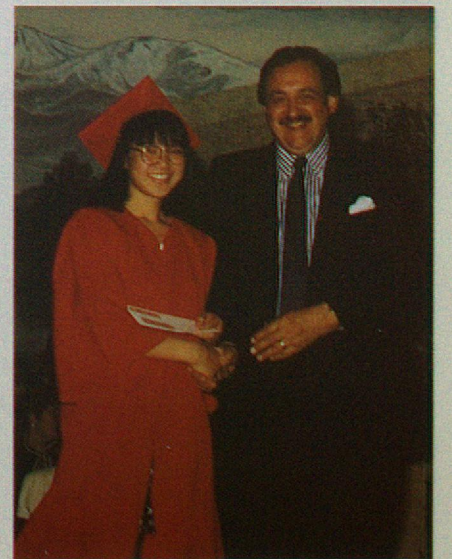

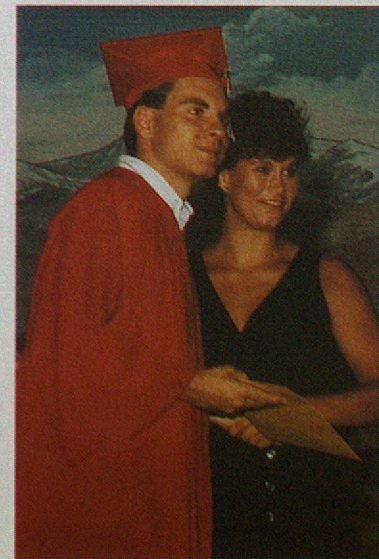

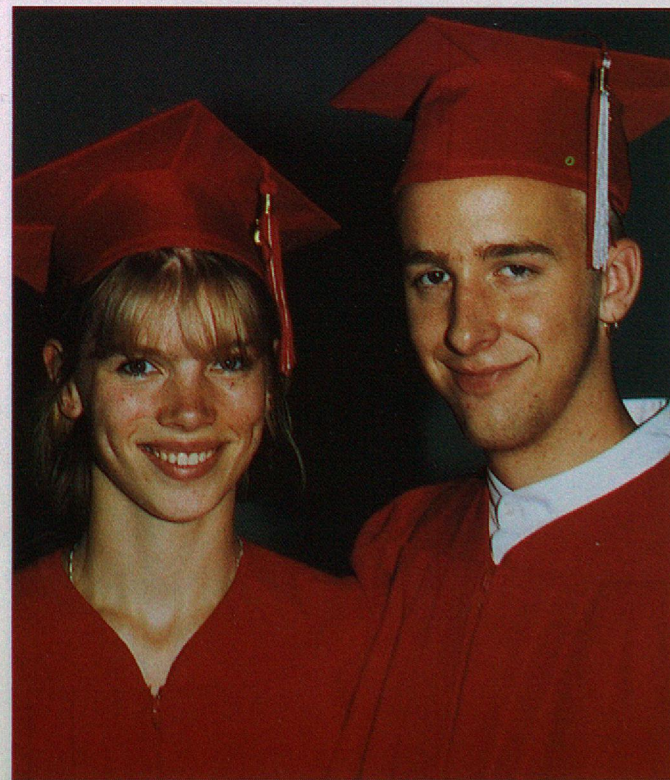

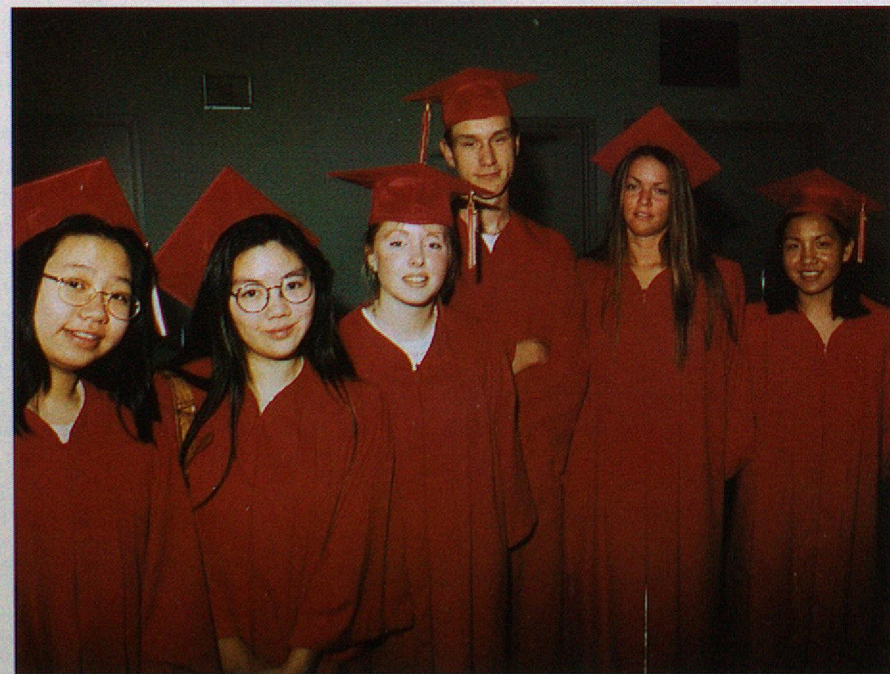

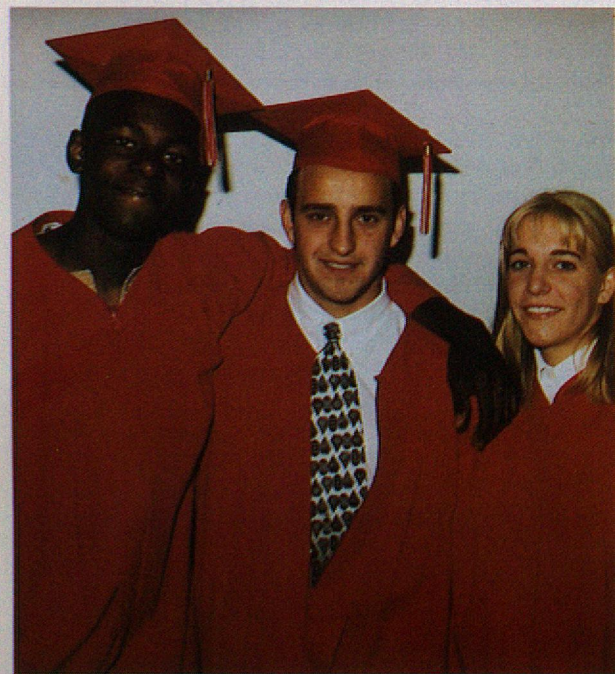

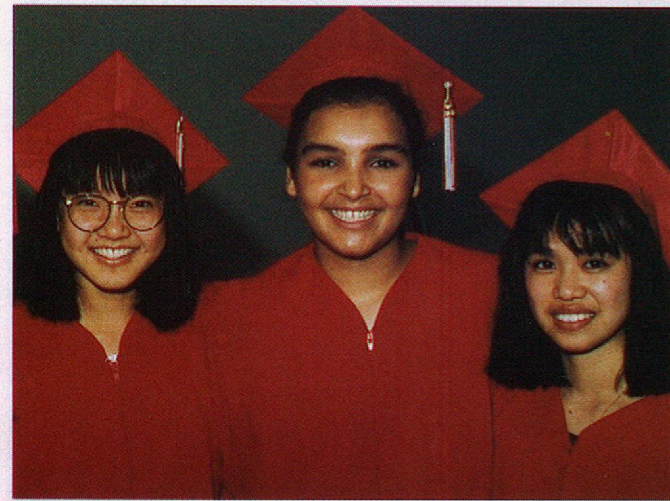

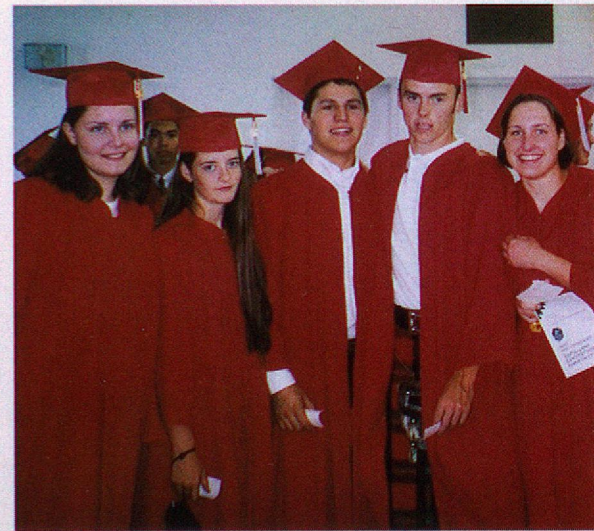

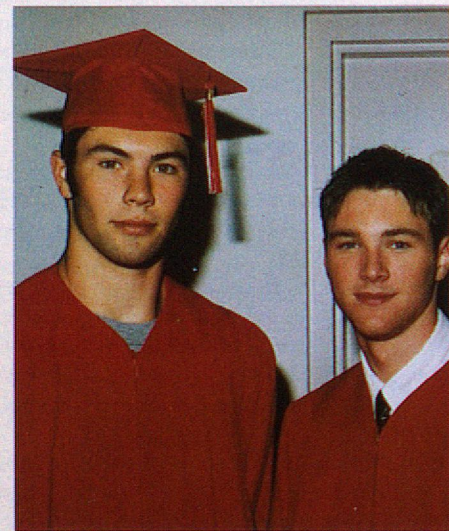

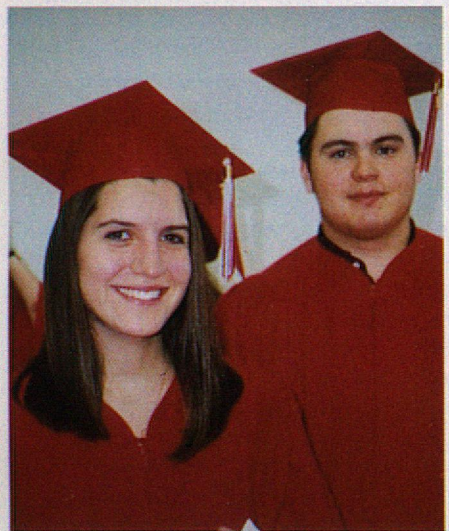

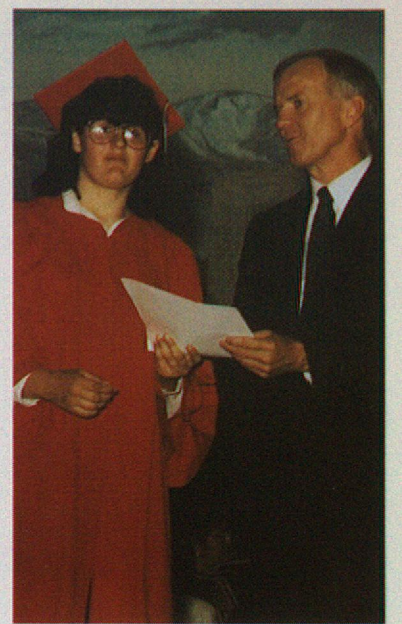

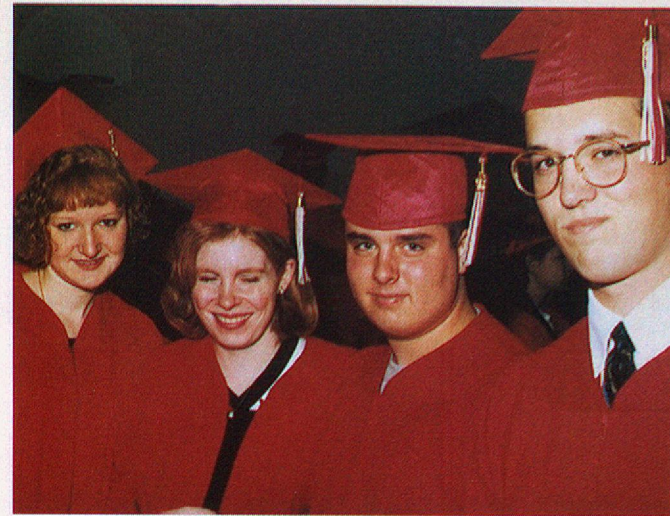

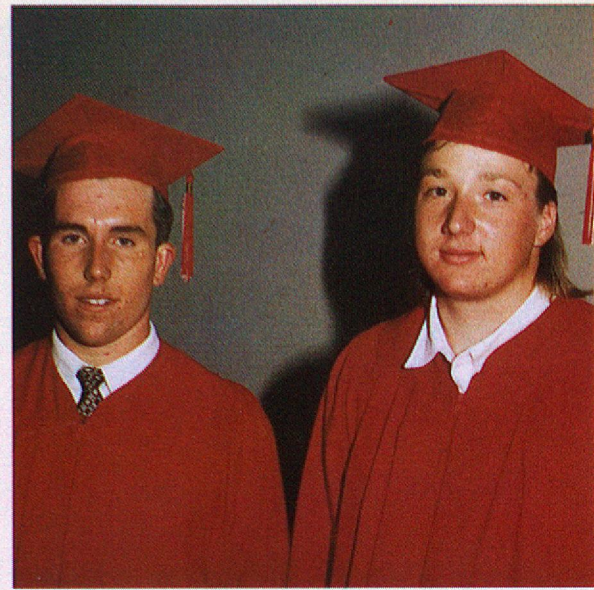

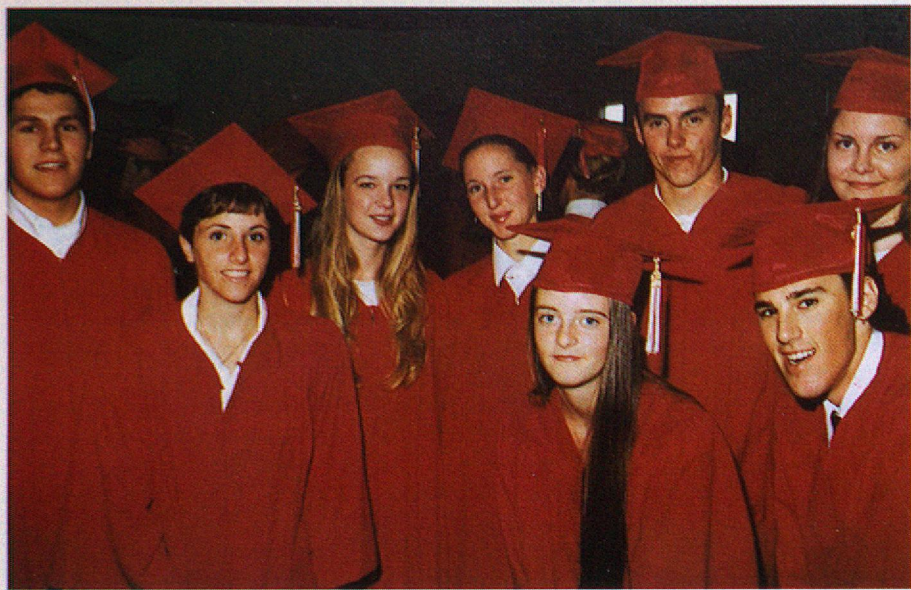

The various accomplishments which we have already begun with have shaped us into the individuals we are today. To our parents and guardians, we thank you for the guidance, love and wupport and the encouragement you have provided throughout our lifetimes, as well as the past three years. We know that you have sacrificed and given much of yourselves in order to make our lives easier and so our eternal gratitude is owed to you. One fact remains, that you will always, always be a motivating force in whatever we may accomplish in the future. To the teachers and staff at Glenlawn, we extend our thanks and appreciation. Over the years, our relationships have progressed with you to the stage where we not only consider you our teachers, but our friends. The knowledge and insight you have shared has helped to bring us to a new level of understanding and will continue to do so in the future years. What we have also learned from you, is that education is not only about tests and homework...to quote B. F. Skinner, "Education is what survives when what has been learned has been forgotten."

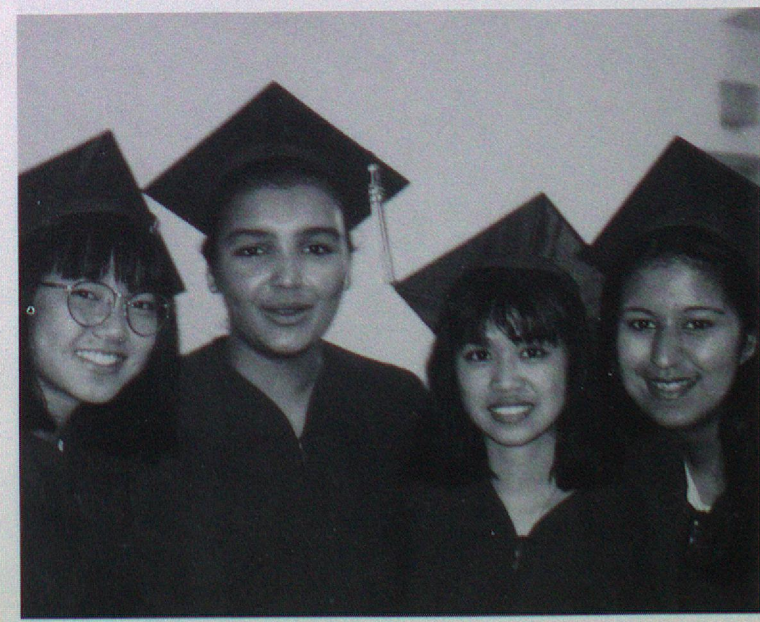

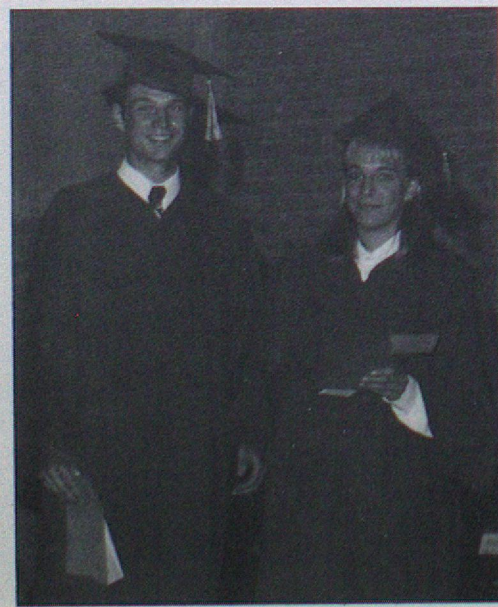

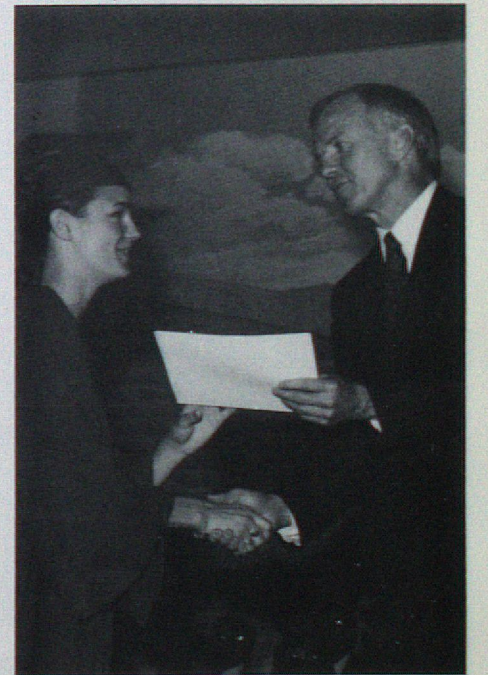

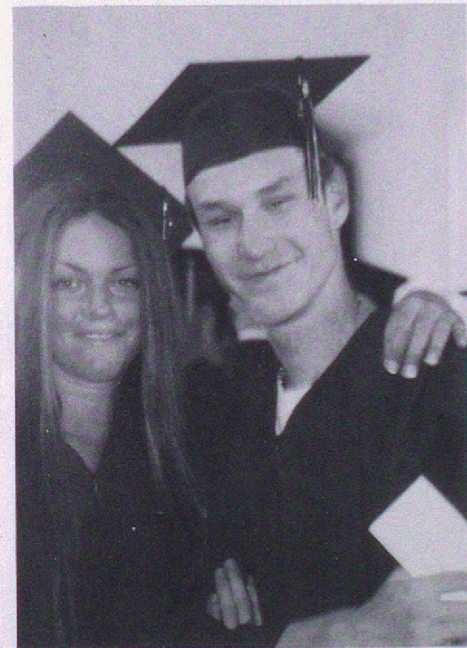

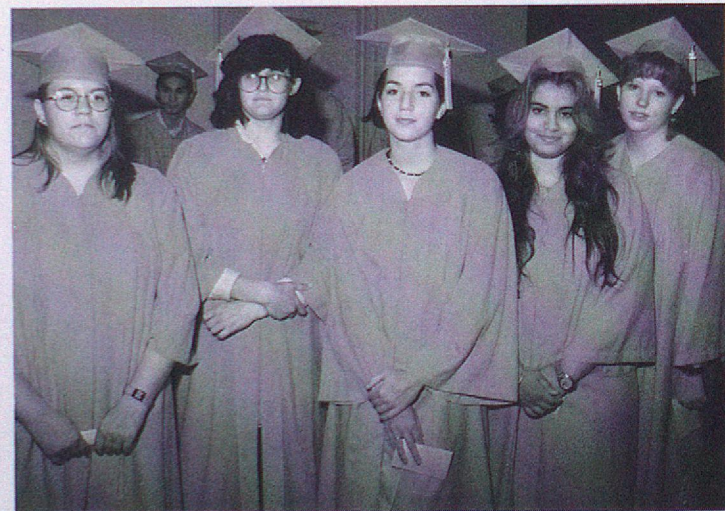

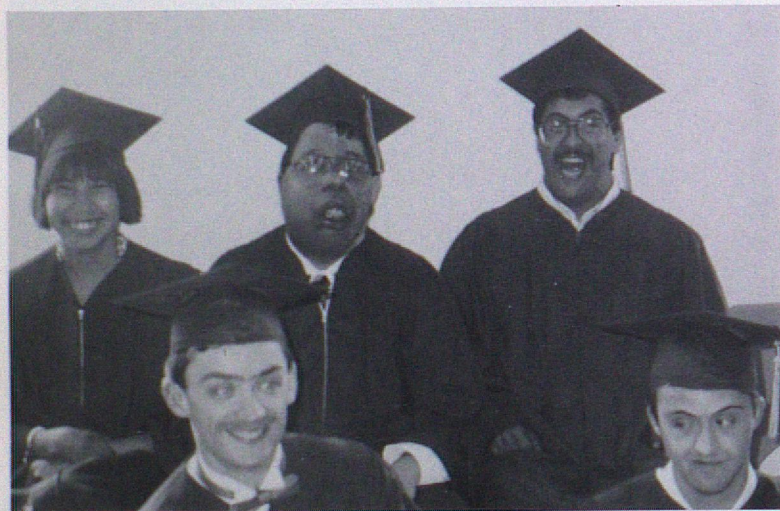

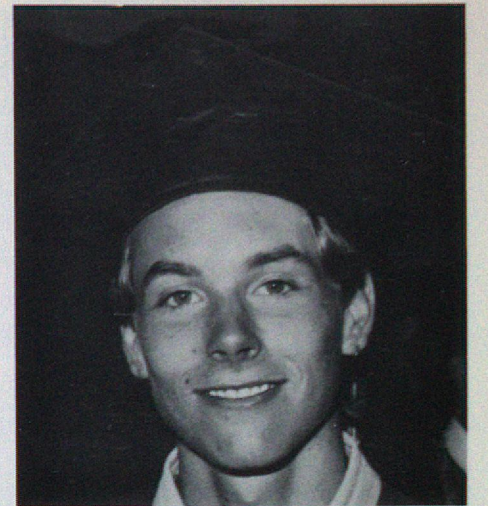

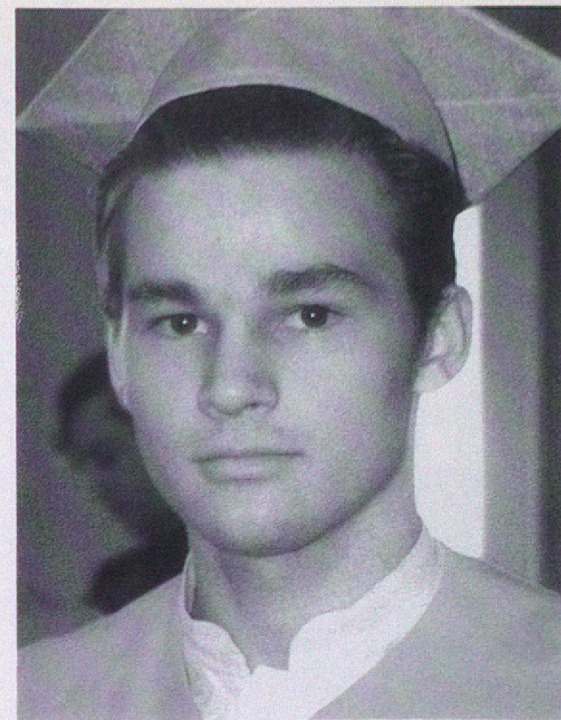

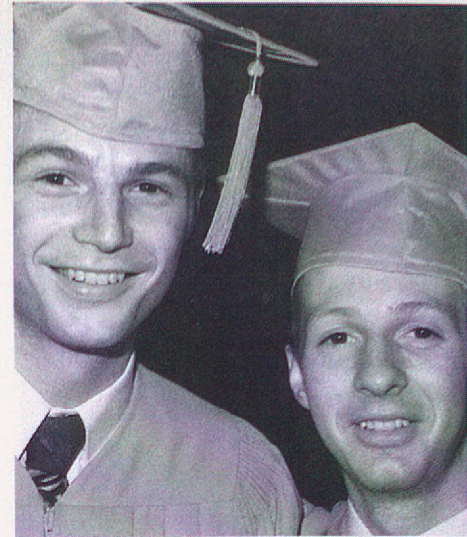

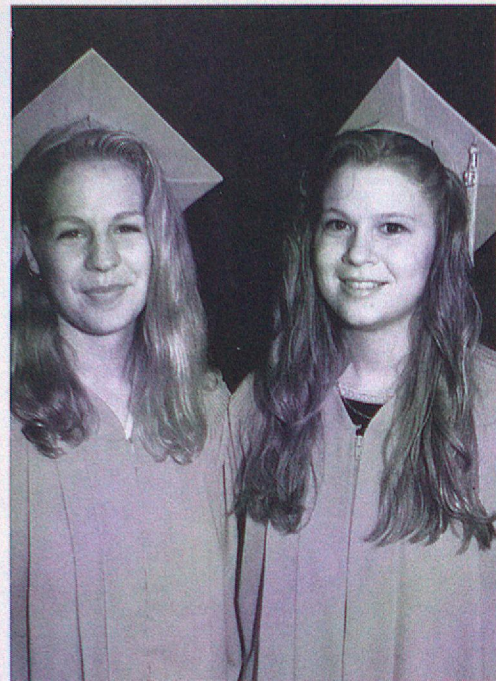

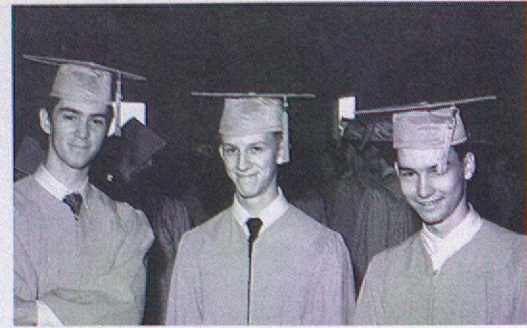

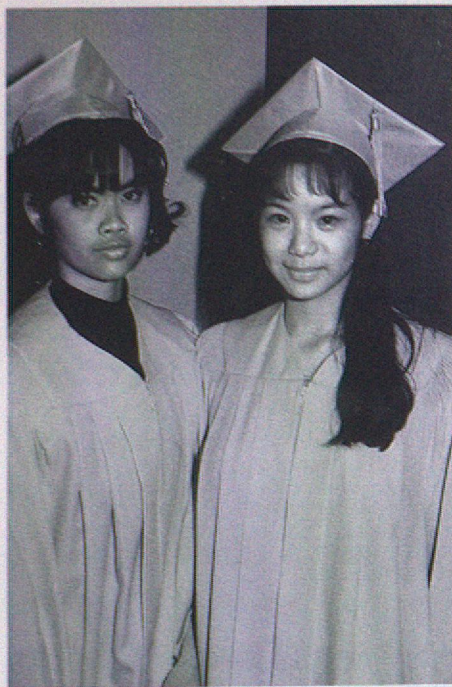

What we have gained from our high school years is worth much more than the marks themselves. We have gained friendships as well as memories that will last a lifetime and have achieved many goals which seemed unreachable as naive Grade Tens. Fellow graduates, it is now time for us to face the wider spectrum of things--this being reality, and let's face it, sometimes reality is not so impressive. The diplomas we hold in our hands today, are not the ultimate sign of success, but one of the many accomplishments we have all worked so very hard for, with studying for finals, completing numerous math assignments, and the dreaded yet educational Children's Book assignment, all of us have learned to cope with the trial and tribulations of high school and have mastered skills which can be applied to the bigger picture. Things in life may not always go the way you want them to. You must learn from the negative as well as the positive and no one knows this better than I. After losing the election to a worthy opponent. I felt that my life was over. Not to the point where slitting my wrists was seen as an option, but more along the lines that my hard work hadn't paid off. However, as I reminisce about the past year, and all the memorable experiences such as being part of Spirit Week activities and head of the 1995 Grad Committee due to not being president, I now realize that there is more to life than just being number one.

We are the generation that is supposed to change the world. With the values, guidance and lessons provided by Glenlawn Collegiate, we are now ready to do our bid. GRADUATES, I want you to be proud of who you are and the accomplishments that you have achieved. My hope for you is that you may enjoy life and neither dwell in the past nor the future, for doing either will prevent you from achieving your best in the present. May you never forget the friends and memories made at G.C.I. and may success find you wherever future endeavors may take you. As Shakespeare wrote in Julius Caesar,

"If we do meet again, why, we shall smile;
if not, why, then this parting was made well."

Cynthia Remedios

Gradommittee

Grad took place on June 27, 1995 at the Winnipeg Convention Centre. The 1994-95 year end graduation celebration was a huge success; virtually all who went enjoyed the event and many did not want the night to end. The night was a time for students to get reacquainted with friends and teachers whom they had not spoken with for a long time. Feelings of both happiness and sadness intermixed to create a night that will not be soon forgotten.

Thank-you's are extended to all the students who took time out of their busy schedules to attend the meetings. A special thank-you goes to Mr. Humphrey, Jennifer Johnston, and Cynthia Remedios for all their time and effort.
