WELCOME TO THE SHOW

This yearbook is dedicated to Mr. T. Keddie for his countless years of service to the Glenlawn community.
He is a teacher that will be forever remembered.

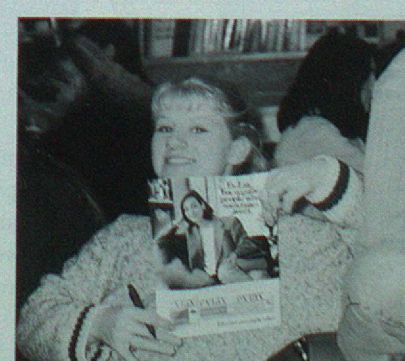

Ladies & Gentlemen ...

A Note From the Editor
This last school year before the new millennium was comprised of many unforeseeable, but remarkable surprises.

The city of Winnipeg received its first taste of Pan Am fever with newly elected Mayor Glen Murray in office. Mark McGwire broke new baseball records as he achieved the most home runs in a season, while the new Star Wars movie "Episode I: The Phantom Menace" made its own records as to what lengths people will go to get opening night tickets. Across the nation, Canadians were reminded how chaotic society has become, by the senseless high school shootings in Taber and Littleton, and the war in Kosovo. All of these incidents left a lasting impression on the students that attended Glenlawn Collegiate.

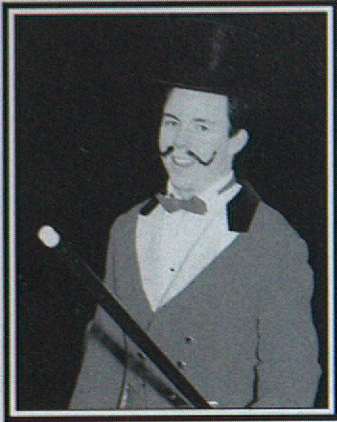

It was our high school that lived up to the Maclean's Magazine description of being one of the best high schools in the nation. It was the students of Glenlawn that performed such talents of constant academic excellence, athletic triumphs, fine arts achievements and a soaring school spirit that always placed Glenlawn in the spotlight. As the rock legend "KISS" would say, "Welcome to the Show," the Glenlawn Show.

Ring Masters

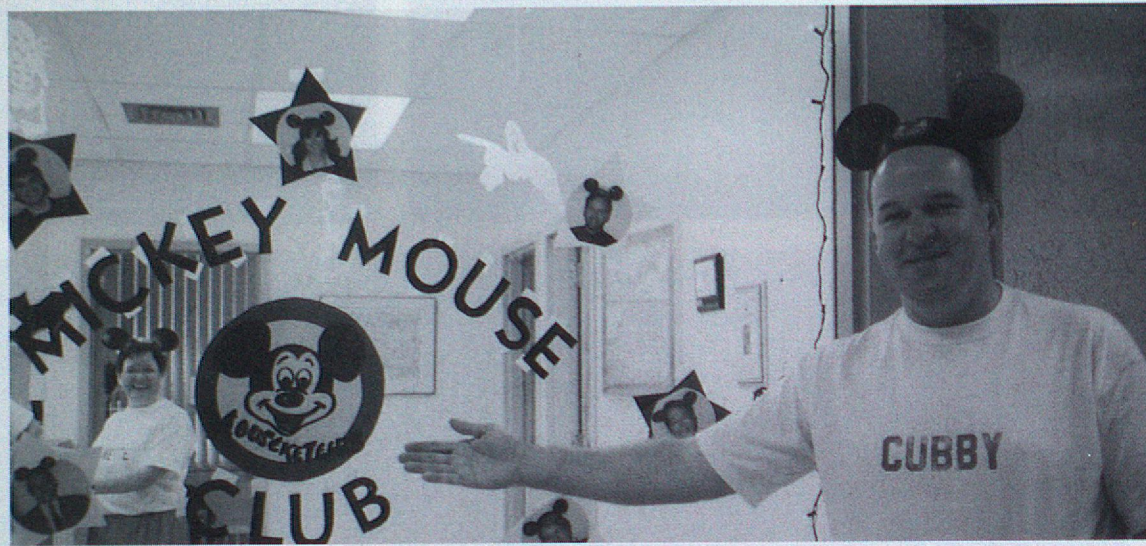

As I contemplate what to write in my year-end address, I think about the many students, staff and parents that I have worked with and learned from this year.

I congratulate each of you on your many accomplishments in areas such as academics, athletics, fine arts and community leadership. We are very proud of you. It is a privilege to watch you grow, mature and learn important life lessons.

Cherish your memories and strive to fulfill your dreams.

I wish you good health, happiness and success in life.

- Principal Mrs. D. Bulow

A yearbook is more than a book of pictures and captions. It is a historical record of a school year, which includes students, staff and activities. Without this record, people and events would be but memories, which over time, diminish and fade. In the future, when a yearbook is reviewed, the memories are restored and relived.

This year at Glenlawn Collegiate, students took part in a wide range of experiences that provided opportunities for them to develop their knowledge, to think for themselves, and to adapt to change. I had many occasions to observe students working together, competing, performing and volunteering their time in the community. By taking advantage of these opportunities, they have also carried on the long-standing tradition of excellence established by Glenlawn students in the areas of academics, athletics, arts and leadership.

I would like to take this opportunity to wish the graduating class the best for your future. We may lose your physical presence, but a part of you is guaranteed to remain in Glenlawn as long as a copy of this yearbook is available.

- Vice Principal Mr. T. Parsons

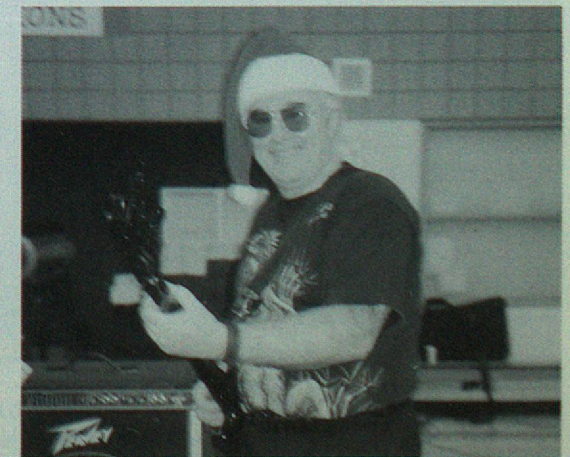

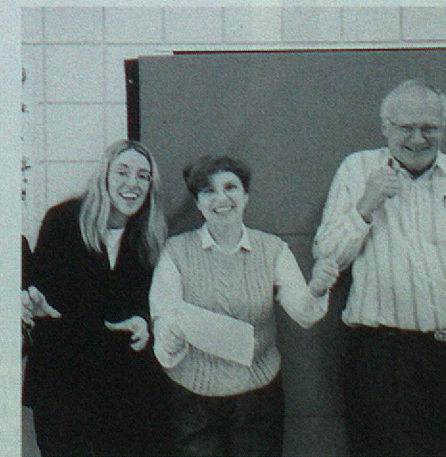

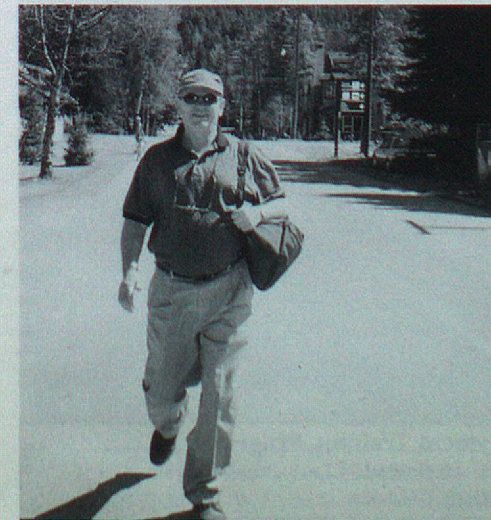

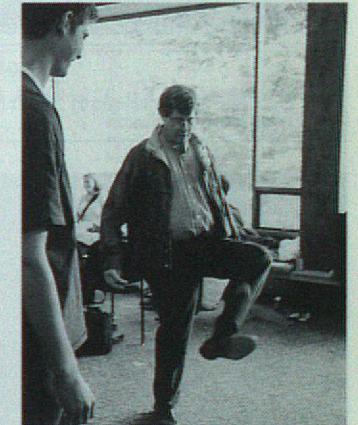

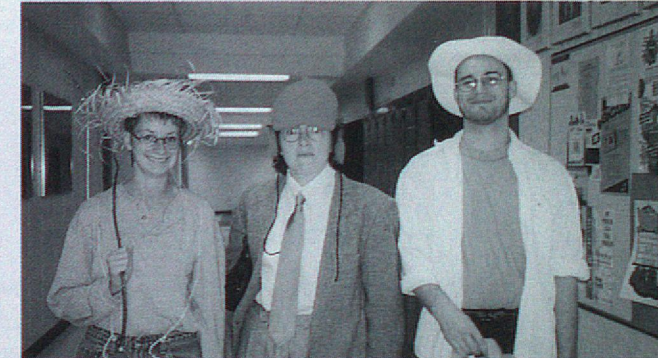

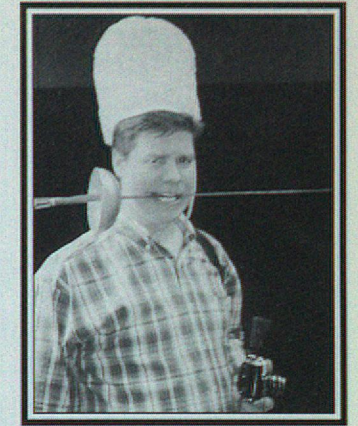

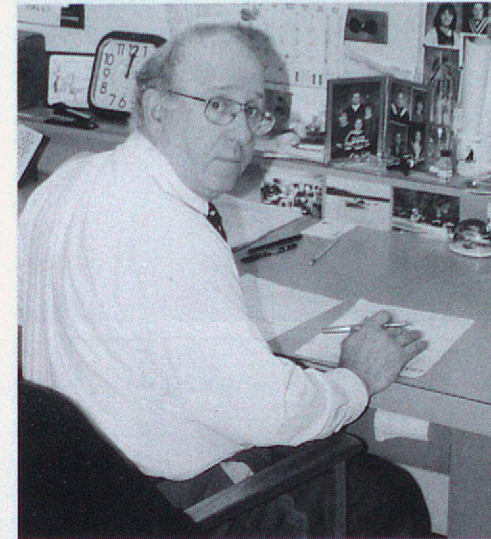

To students and staff, I offer my congratulations on another outstanding year at Glenlawn Collegiate. The co-operation and hard work of students and staff have resulted in innumerable personal successes and accomplishments. In addition, we have had an impressive honour roll, participated in provincial athletic championships and put on professional band, drama and musical productions. The most important lessons learned will not be about "subjects." Rather, they will be lessons about believing in yourself, taking pride in your work, treating others with respect and dignity, setting goals and working together.

Graduates, you can be confident that you are well prepared for your future endeavors.

Glenlawn is a great school and I have been proud to tell people that it is where I work. As I move on to my next assignment, I look forward to hearing about Glenlawn's continued success.

- Vice Principal Mr. R. Cordingley

Keddie's Korner

After thirty-three years of teaching at Glenlawn Collegiate, Mr. Keddie is finally hanging up the metre stick. "T.K.", as he is known to his peers, has been a fundamental part of G.C.I. since he began teaching in 1966. Mr. Keddie has coached the varsity basketball teams, been involved with "Reach for the Top" and even hosted a Glenlawn radio show. T.K.'s legacy of hardwork in and out of the classroom will always be remembered and missed.

Student Council

This year's council was a dedicated, albeit small, group, but gosh darn it, we had spirit. Whether it was organizing dances (all great successes, I might add), fundraising or running around planning events for Spirit Week, student council members were right in there helping out behind the scenes.

Thanks

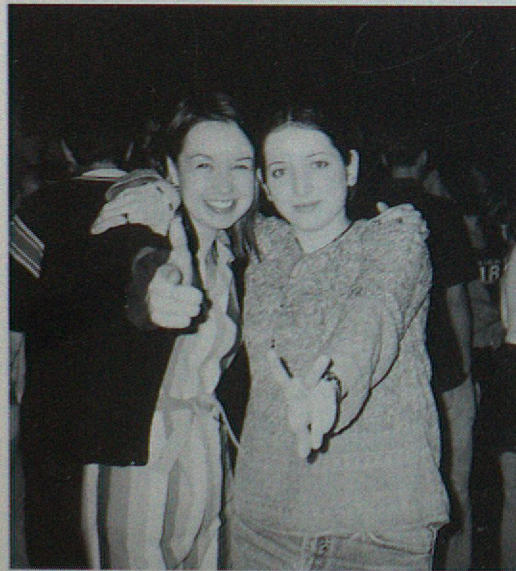

goes out to everyone who showed up for meetings, volunteered their time at dances and participated in all other student council activities that went on. A big thank you to Mrs. Sharpe, who supervised all our after school meetings and Ms. Penner who held those dreaded early, early morning meetings.

The team did extremely well in all the meets they attended, and had a great time at Provincials. A special thanks goes out to the coaches who supported, motivated, filled us with bakery delights and helped all of us achieve our own personal goals.

For those who don't know what Improv is, here is a little explanation. It's when a person or a group acts out a scene, creating spontaneous actions and dialogues. Nothing is rehearsed or memorized. Glenlawn's 98/99 Improv team had an extremely successful year, receiving 3rd place in the finals, held at the Franco Manitoba Cultural Centre in March. The team members never failed to amaze and entertain their audience.

Showcasing Our Talent

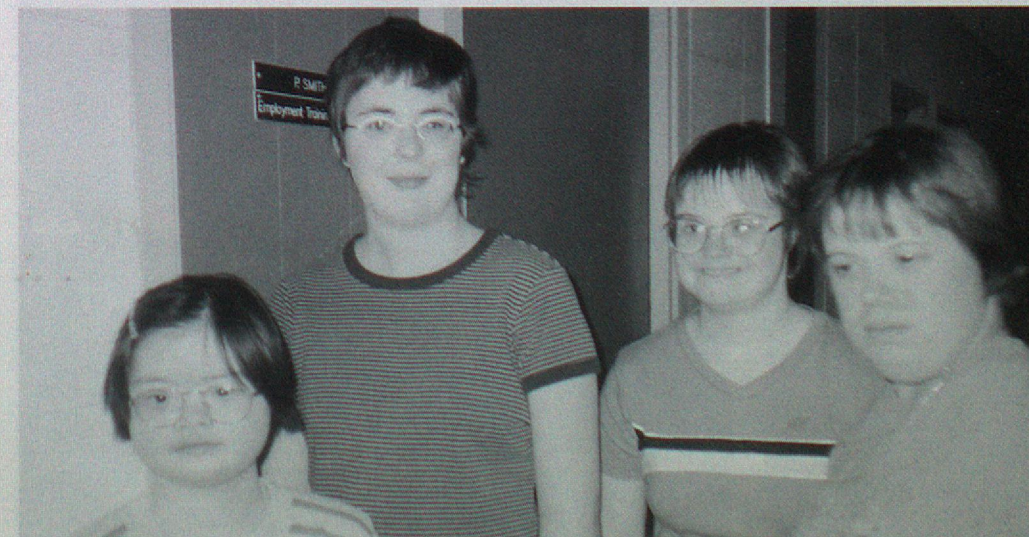

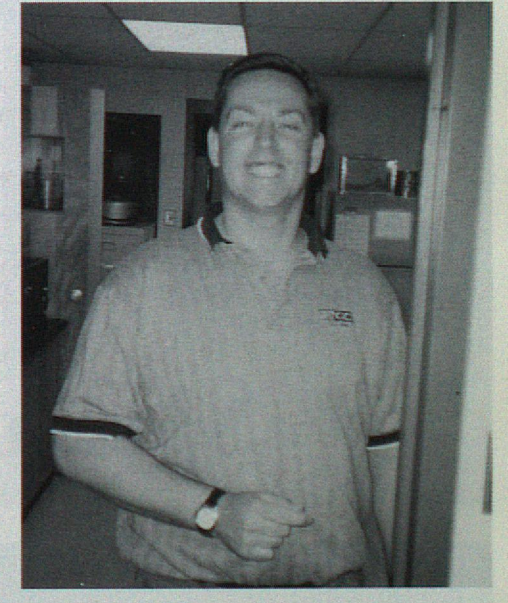

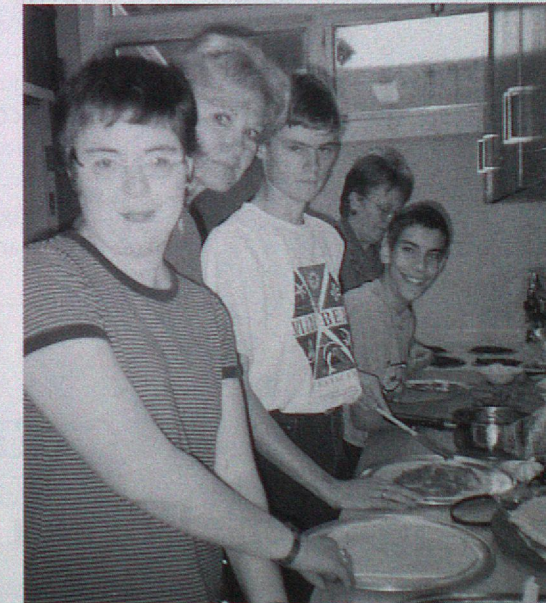

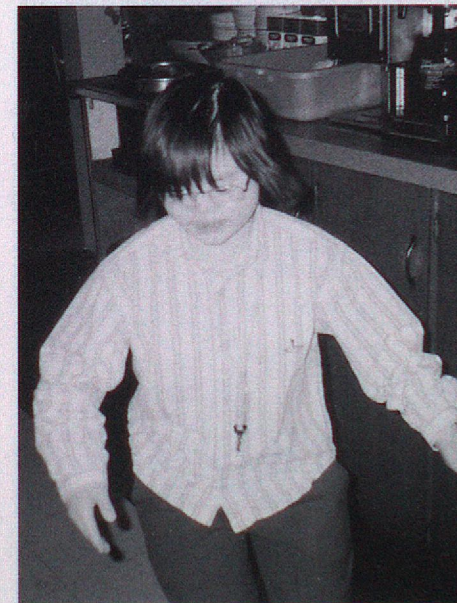

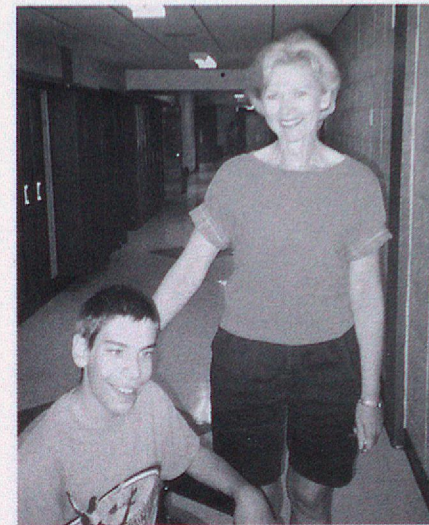

On the night of October 15, 1998, Drama 40S hosted their annual variety show, "The Streets of Glenlawn." The house sold out, and could have never been such a success without the guidance of Mrs. Quinton and Mr. Kristjanson. From the soft sounds of Ashley Sharpe and Jennifer Kosowski to the stunning performances of bands "Nociceptor" and "Cheeseburger Farm," whether it was Deanna Butcher dancing or Mark Zaporan and Jason Ostapyk wrestling, "The Streets of Glenlawn" was a fun-filled night for everyone.

Junior Achievement

Junior Achievement is a non-profit organization dedicated to teaching students about the business world. The Junior Achievement Company Program offered at Glenlawn was an excellent way for many Glenlawn students to learn all about starting and running a company. This year, Glenlawn hosted three different companies: SNAP, Interra Design and Imachinations. Interra Design won a province-wide competition, resulting in a commercial for their company airing on Global Television. The young entrepreneurs finished off the year at the Futures Unlimited Banquet, an awards dinner and dance.

Special Guest Performances

Speaker's Bureau

The Glenlawn Speaker's Bureau had an active year recruiting dynamic speakers to give presentations to Glenlawn students. In September, both a young male and a young female spoke to students about problem gambling and their own experiences with being addicted to gambling. In November, Mr. G. Aikerman spoke about the cruel realities of smoking. In December Mr. D. Northcott of Winnipeg Harvest spoke to the students about poverty and what they can do to help. In February, a Glenlawn graduate returned to speak about life after Glenlawn. Speaker's Bureau succeeded in providing people with both information and entertainment.

The J.V. Girls achieved great success in their first year of high school volleyball. The J.V. Girls won their Cloverleaf division and went on to the Provincial Tournament in hopes of becoming champions. The girls finished in the top eight of the tournament and had a great time learning the skills necessary to move on to the next level of play. Look for many of these girls to contribute greatly to the success of next year's varsity team.

As always, the J.V. Boys were a fun team to watch. By the end of the season, the J.V. Boys were a difficult team to reckon with. The boys placed second in the Selkirk Tournament, third in the Cloverleaf Tournament and finished in the top eight at the Provincial Tournament, which they hosted. Everyone looks forward to seeing many of these players moving on to the varsity level next year.

The V. Girls volleyball team was a very close group and improved greatly over the course of the season. The team was noted for their unbeatable defense. The girls earned the opportunity to play in the Provincials by winning a wild card spot at the end of the regular season. Congratulations goes out to the team on a spectacular year.

This year's V. Boys volleyball team had the most successful year in Glenlawn boys volleyball history. They maintained their number two ranking in the province throughout the season and eventually won the MHSAA Provincial AAAA Championship for the first time. Team success was not the only achievement for the V. Boys, as Kevin Daciw was ranked third in the province and Mark Shepit was ranked fifth.

Boo at the Zoo

This year, "Boo at the Zoo" was held from October 20th to 30th. Glenlawn Leadership students ran the sites of the Pirate Ship, Goldilocks and the Three Bears, Little Red Riding Hood and the Wolf, the Adams Family, and Count Dracula's Disco.

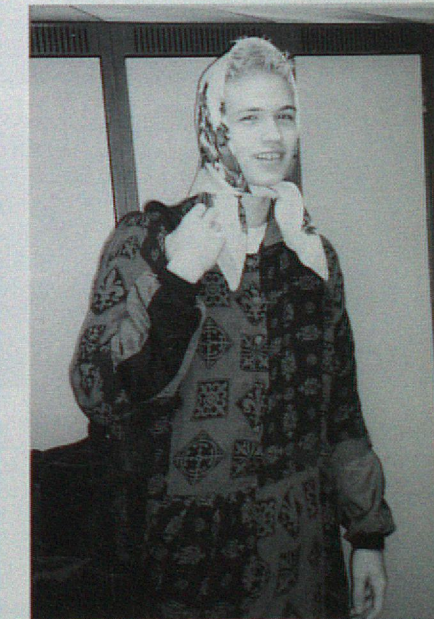

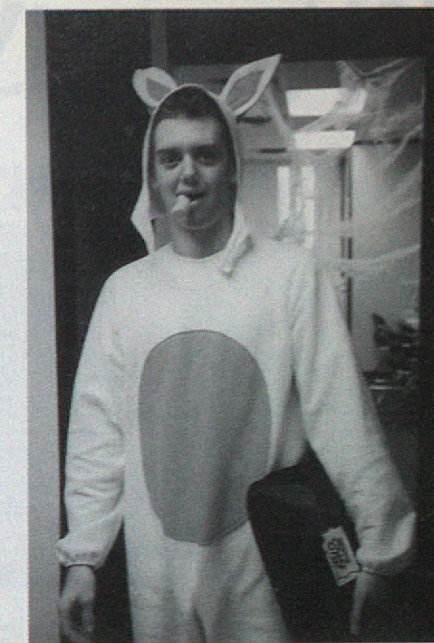

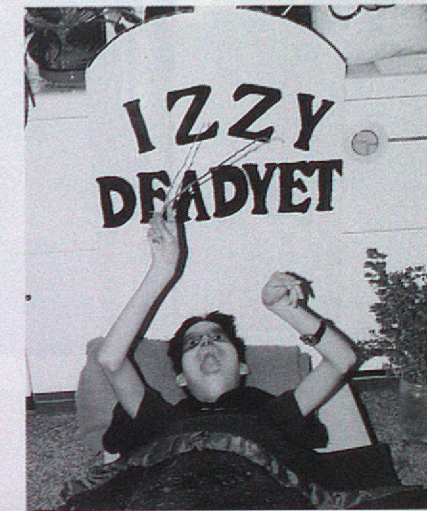

The Glenlawn team braved the cold weather, the bad smells from the buffalo, frightened children, uncomfortable costumes and people who thought that they were just "too cool" to be there. However, THEY TRIUMPHED and managed to pull off a "Boo at the Zoo" so amazing that about six thousand people attended each and every night!

Worker Wonders of the World

Students of the World of Work program had a very busy year with their on-the-job-training positions. Students have gone to various businesses in the city for their work experience. These businesses included: Aime's Auto, St. Vital Library, the YMCA, Morrow Avenue Daycare, HMV, McDonald's and various retail positions at the St. Vital Mall.

Before going to a specific three week work experience block, a student must set up an interview with the supervisor of their chosen work site. Many times, after the initial block has been completed, students receive part-time jobs at their work stations. Congratulations!

Indeed, it is the WOW students that are taking the necessary steps in preparing themselves for entry-level jobs after graduation.

Act 2

Winter Assembly

Medieval Feast

The Medieval Feast took place on December 16th and 17th and included the hard work of Mrs. Redekop's two choirs, Mr. Entz and Mr. Kornberger's Western Civilization classes and Ms. Penner's foods students.

The choirs performed a head table skit, many madrigals, songs and a few dances. The Western Civ. classes performed a witch trial and the posting of Martin Luther's 95 Theses to demonstrate what times were like during the Middle Ages. Of course, if it was not for the dedicated work of the foods classes, there would be no delicious entrées to feast upon.

These students and teachers all came together to put on a wonderful performance that was enjoyed by all.

Taking Centre Stage

A Christmas Carol

From December 3rd to 5th, a cast and crew of sixty put on the first major production of the year, a highly successful revival of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol. Although a lot of other schools have put on this play, (which is set in 19th century England) many considered this version one of the best. Whether audiences enjoyed the portrayal of Scrooge, Bob Cratchit and the various spirits or whether people enjoyed singing along to the numerous Xmas carols, the audiences of the sold out evening and matinee performances agreed that it was a smash hit. A special thanks goes out to Mrs. Quinton, the director, and to Mr. Cape and his crew on the elaborately decorated sets and costumes. Way to go!

 The J.V. Boys started the season on a great note as they won the Wemen Classic, the biggest tournament in the province. The team was extremely talented but faced the same problem as the V. The team had a great time this season and looks forward to bigger and better things next year.

 Hustle, heart and humour. That is how you would describe the 98/99 J.V. Girls B-ball team. Loaded with talent, height and heart, this team was sure to go far. They only had one thing to learn: how to be a team. This they learned quickly thanks to the leadership of their captains and their superb coach, Ms. Penner. Once the girls became a team, they easily found success. Next year's returning players at the varsity level are excited to have these girls on their team in the future. The best is yet to come.

 The V. Boys B-ball season was filled with highs and lows. The team started the season ranked ninth in the province after a good start. Unfortunately, the boys dropped out of the top ten soon after, largely due to the extremely competitive Cloverleaf schedule. While all of the team goals were not met, the individuals improved greatly and both the coaches and the spectators look forward to next season.

 Blood, sweat and plenty of bruises are what the V. Girls B-ball team primarily produced this year. We had success in many tournaments and league play. With our legendary coach Mr. Kornberger inspiring us all along the way, we had one of the most memorable seasons in G.C.I. history. There is really actually only one way to describe this year's season and the phrase comes right out of the mouth of coach Kornberger himself: "Absolutely outstanding, ladies."

Encounters With Canada is a program which strives to teach high school students about their country. Students from all over the country travel to Ottawa for one week. They have the opportunity to choose from many theme weeks, including Arts and Culture, Sports and Fitness and Science and Technology. Although some of the activities are geared towards the chosen topic, there are others in which everyone participates. These activities include visiting Parliament Hill, touring Ottawa, skating on the Rideau Canal, swimming and playing team sports. The best part of the entire week was the variety of people that came. Without a doubt, Encounters With Canada was an incredibly memorable event.

Retirements & Leavings

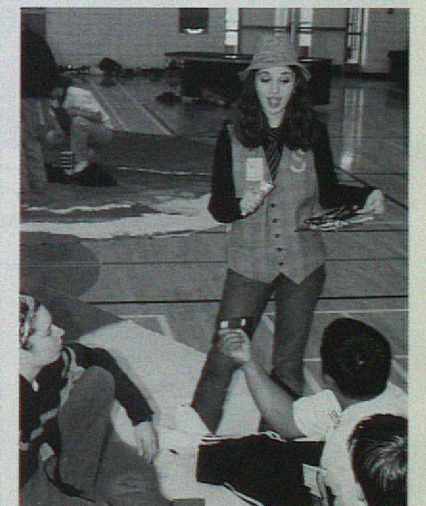

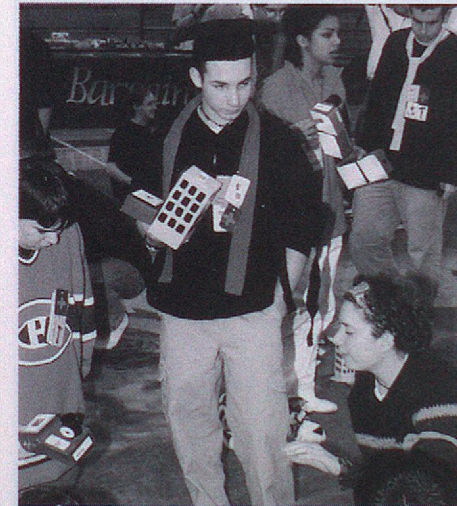

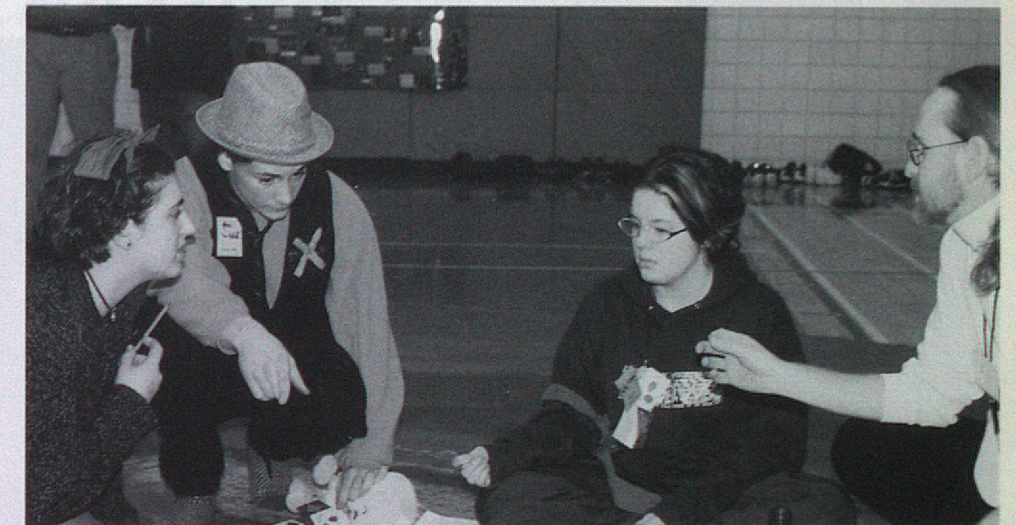

According to Aristotle, "the touchstone of knowledge is the ability to teach." There are many teachers who have shared their knowledge with the students of Glenlawn. Through their hard work and dedication, they have touched the lives of many students over the years. A number of teachers, including Mr. B. Kenal (Psychology/Geography), Mr. D. McLean (Automotives), Mr. R. Murray (Geography) and Mr. T. Keddie (History) will be retiring.

A number of others will be leaving Glenlawn, including Mr. R. Cordingley (Vice Principal), Ms. T. Oswald (English) and Mr. M. Puscus (Math). Their enthusiasm has helped make Glenlawn the wonderful school that it is.

The Global Change Game

On January 29, 1999, the Geography 40S and World Issues 40S classes took part in the Global Change Game. This simulation game was an amazing opportunity for classes to apply what they have been learning all year to solve actual problems facing the world. The students were divided in order to represent citizens of various countries. Only a small handful were provided with all things people in Canada take for granted: food, health care and employment. The others had to struggle to obtain those necessities. Thirty years and one war later, 200 million people were discovered to have been lost due to a lack of basic human necessities. Despite it all, the game was a positive experience that allowed students to create innovative solutions to global problems.

Sports Council

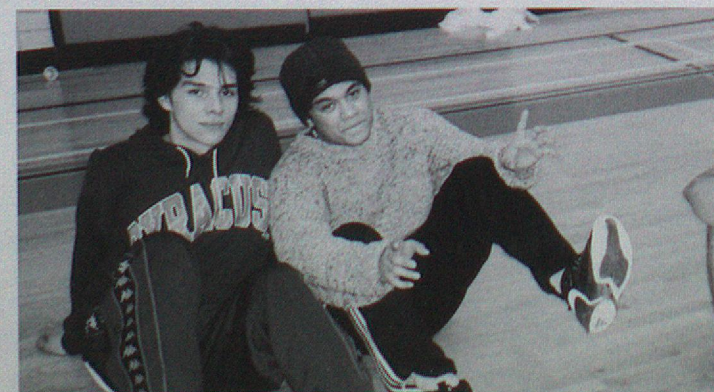

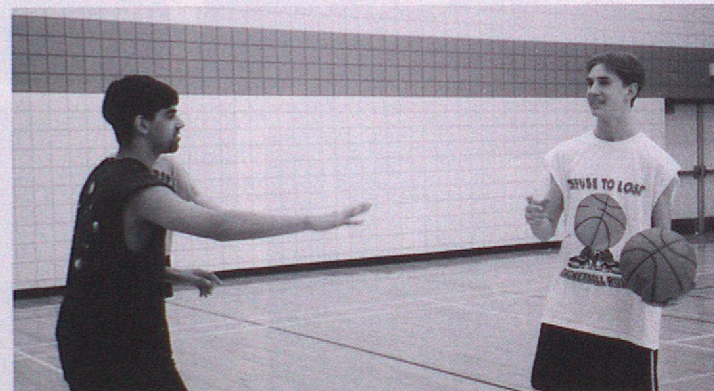

Clockwise: Patricia Dubeau, Matthew Muir, Mitch Coolidge, Shannon Pruden, Deanna Mongeon, Laura Snowdon, David Muir, Nancy Schwendemann
Missing: Ms. J. How

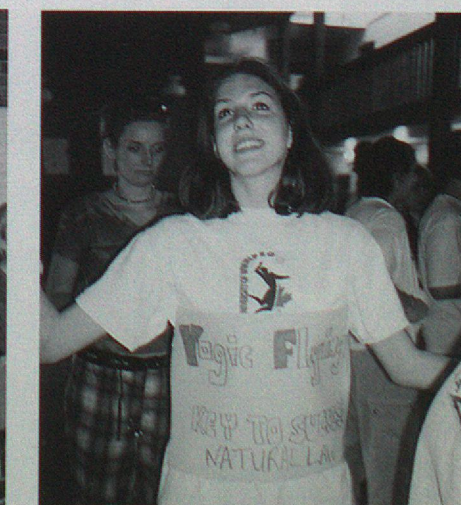

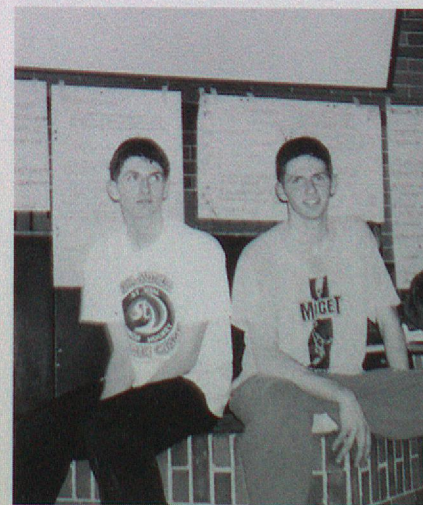

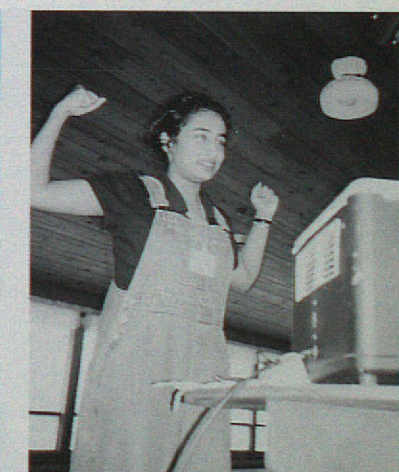

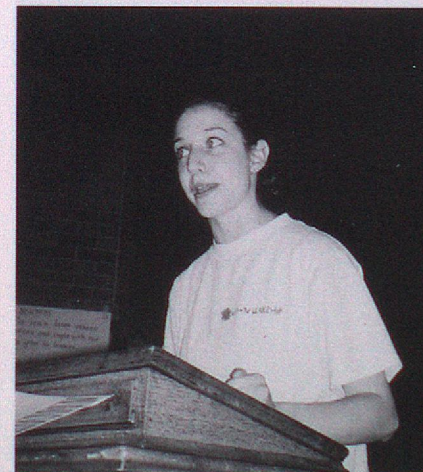

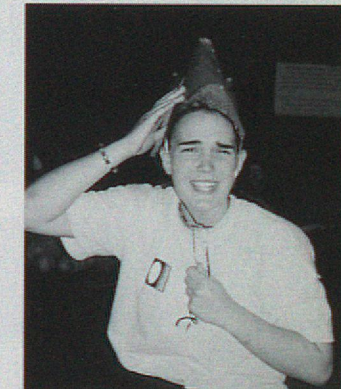

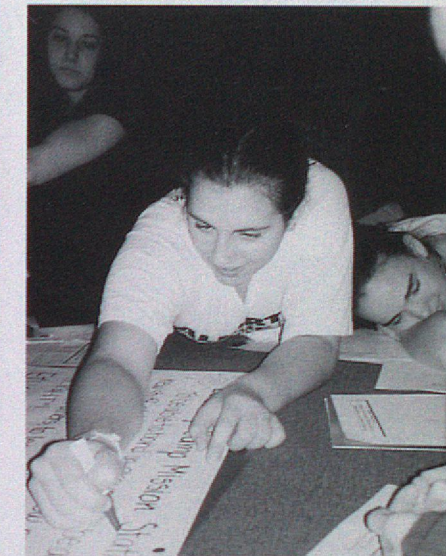

The Glenlawn Sports Council was set up to encourage students to participate in physical activities, as well as to promote the school's extra-curricular sports such as volleyball and basketball. It is composed of students from all aspects of the school and, along with its teacher-supervisor, Ms. How, plans athletics-related events. It has generally increased school spirit and school pride, qualities for which Glenlawn is known. The Sports Council is also in charge of organizing the volleyball and basketball pep-rallies, and the 3-on-3 basketball tournament. Glenlawn has had a long history of excelling in sports. Much of this is due to the enthusiastic fans who showed their support all year!

Ring Leaders Leadership

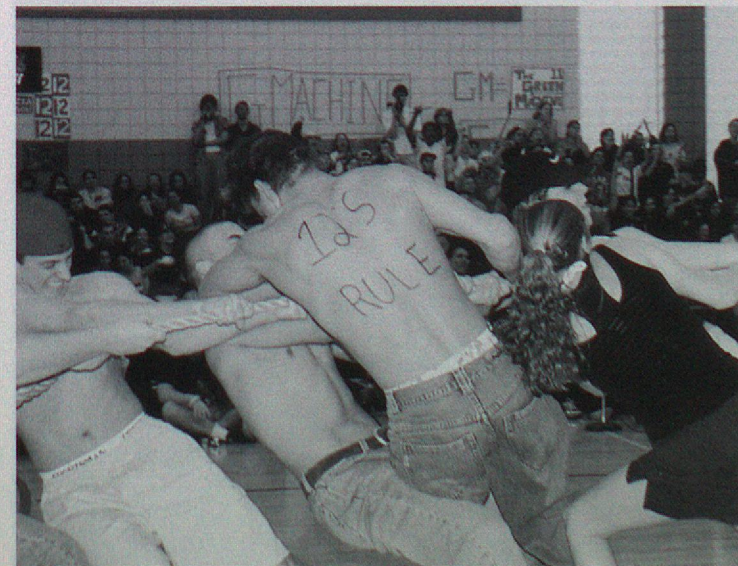

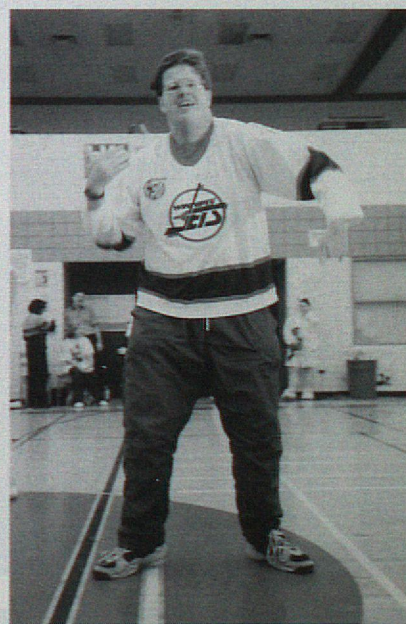

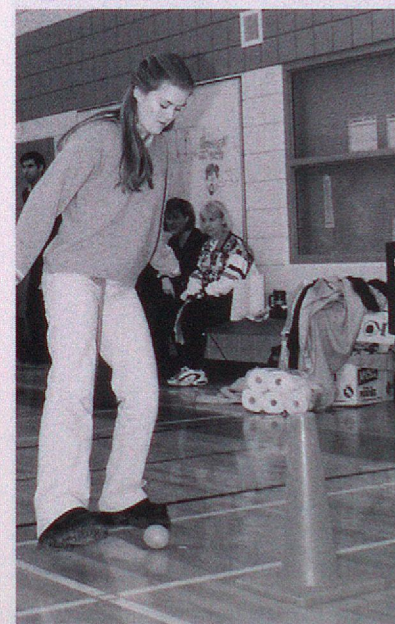

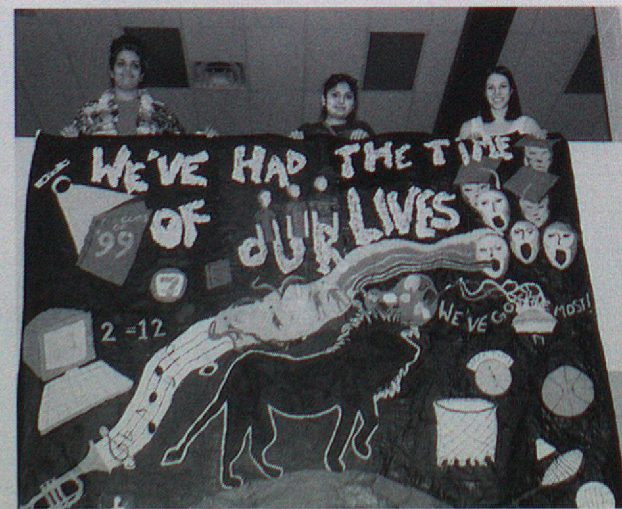

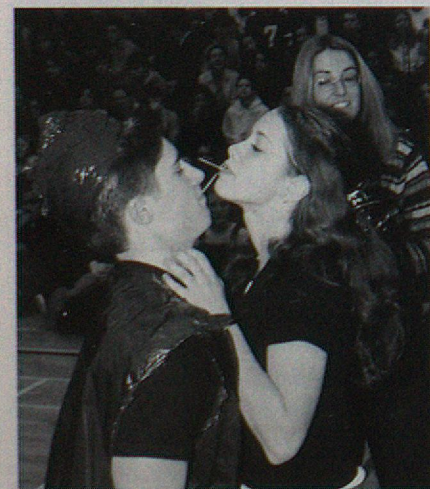

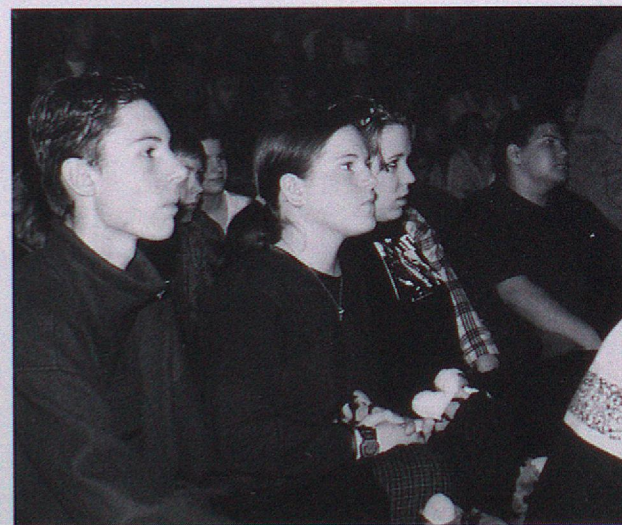

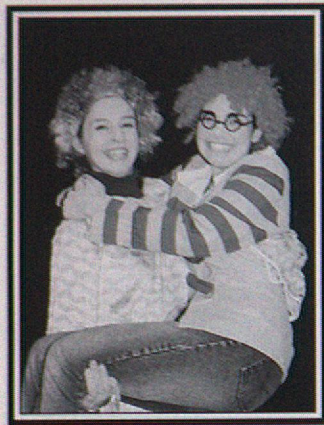

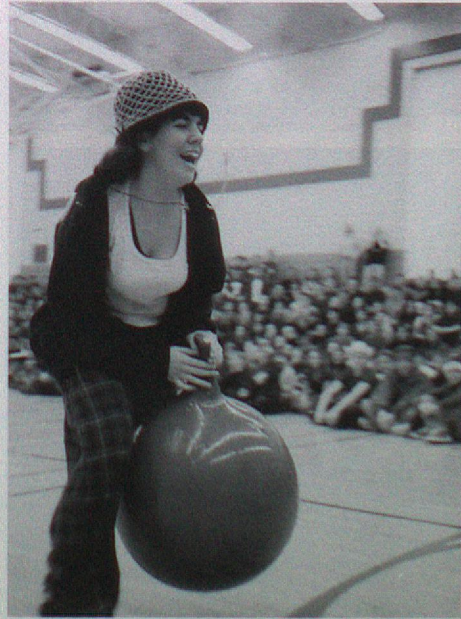

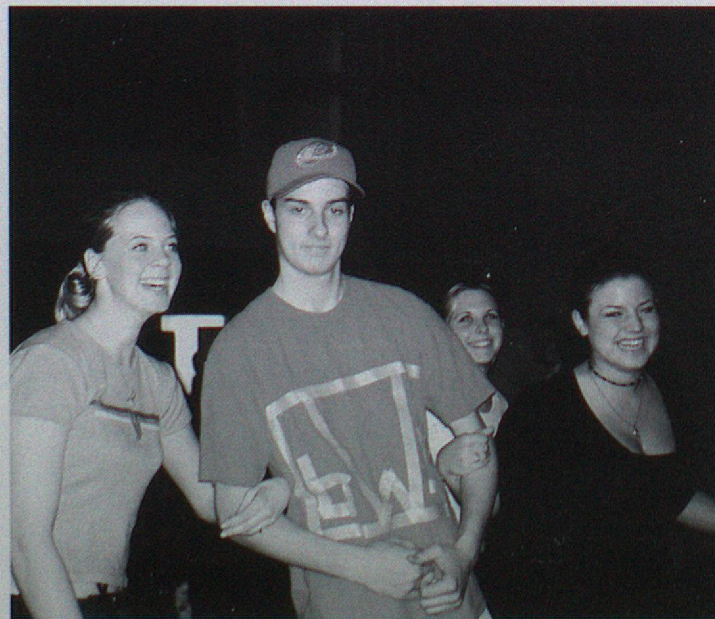

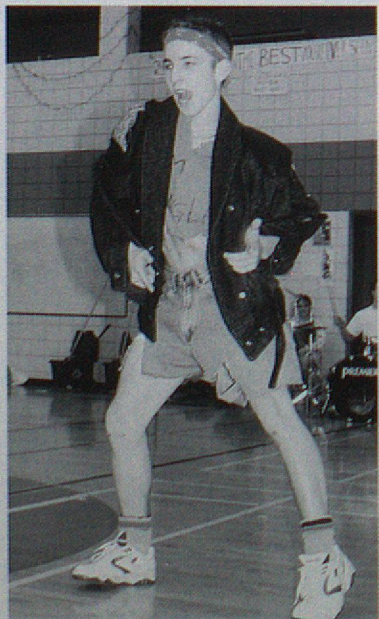

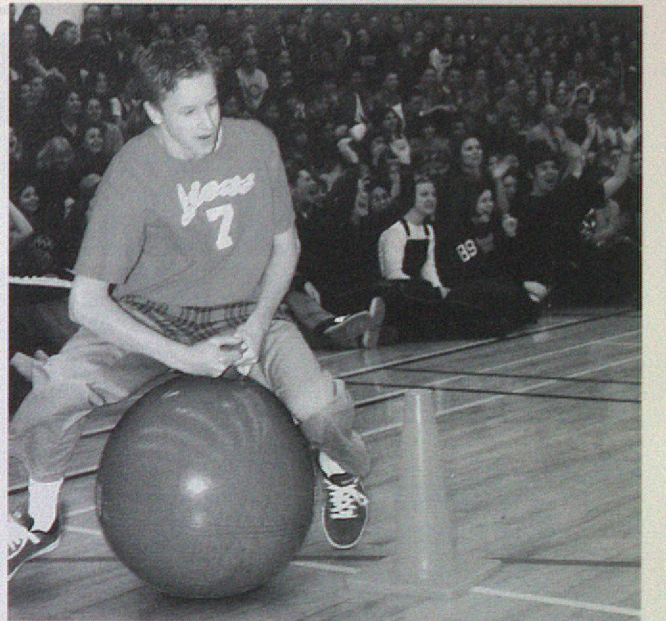

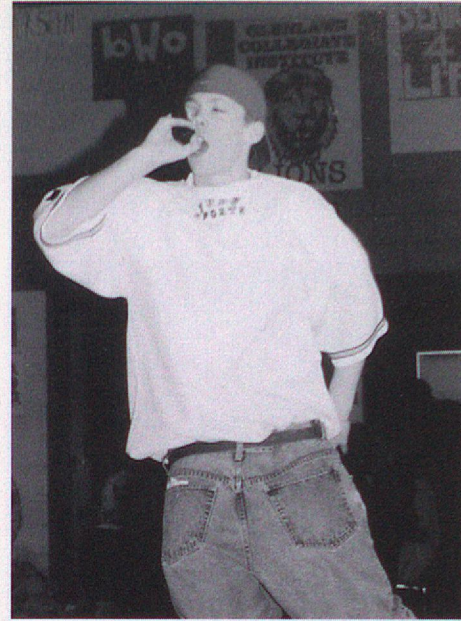

Nelson Mandela once asked, "We ask ourselves, who am I to be brilliant, gorgeous, talented and fabulous? Actually, who are we not to be?" Glenlawn's Leadership students have accomplished all of this and more. Throughout the year, this dynamic group of people, led by Ms. Oswald, has contributed to the life of both the community and the school. Leadership students were involved in activities such as Take Pride Winnipeg!, Champions and Boo at the Zoo. In May, the entire group traveled to Camp Assiniboia and learned about everything from team-building to sleep deprivation to politics. Together, this enthusiastic group of students made a difference in the world.

This year's musical, The Wizard of Oz, was a huge success! After seven performances and one matinee on Sunday, the singers, crew members and pit orchestra were all exhausted, but very proud of their great accomplishment.

As soon as the munchkins, ozians, crows and jitterbugs realized that they did not have two left feet, the show fit together perfectly. Whether it was the water gun fights behind the stage or the crazy shananigans of two farmhands that will go nameless, fun was had by all.

A special thanks goes out to Mrs. Redekop for her enthusiastic attitude which always helped the singers get through those long rehearsals; to Mr. Cape for his time spent leading a fantastic group of crew members; and to Ms. Byrne for her endless smiles while conducting the band.

Great show everyone!

Once again, the small yet very dedicated track team achieved great results in such field events as shotput and discus, track events of the 3000 m run, the 800 m dash and other various exhausting trials. All of the students who participated in the Provincials surpassed their own personal records.

Many thanks to Ms. Howell and Ms. O'Connor who so enthusiastically motivated, trained and supported these track athletes.

Congratulations on a great season!

- Ms. D. Jones

Rugby is a fast paced, physical game that requires a keen grasp of the technical skills and the rules of the game. Despite what may look like mayhem out on the field, Glenlawn's rugby team really did know what they were doing! In fact, the boys finished fifth in the league. A slow start and a few early losses landed them in the consolation final where they handily defeated Fort Richmond. Way to go, boys!

- Ms. D. Jones

Tests & Exams

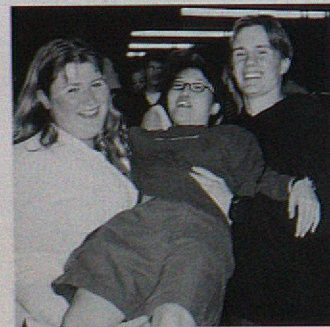

As always, Glenlawn's numerous bands have maintained their high-standing reputation in the music community. Whether it was the novice grade 10's, the developing grade 11's, the experienced grade 12's or the smokin' Wind Ensemble, all the bands managed to blow everyone away at Optimist, Banff, and school concerts.

Congratulations to everyone who participated and a big, BIG thanks goes out to Mr. Kristjanson and Mrs. Bourbonnais. All of this would not have been possible without them.

E-Slot Choir

The choirs of Glenlawn Collegiate had an amazing year at Choralfest and the Winnipeg Music Festival, not to mention a rockin' time in Banff (can we say "pizza"?).

During the year, D-slot choir, E-slot choir and Jazz Junction performed many memorable concerts. Whether it was E-slot choir being honoured to perform in Gretna, Manitoba, Jazz Junction busy with all their gigs, or D-slot choir singing some good-time oldies, the choir students left their audiences with smiles on their faces and angelic sounds to be remembered.

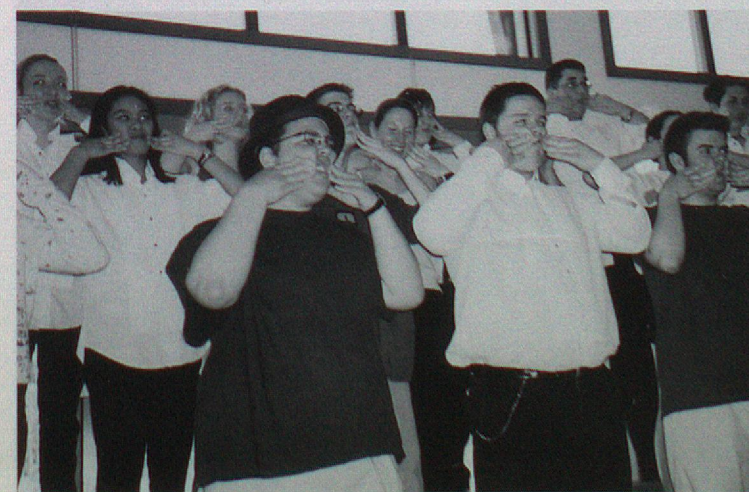

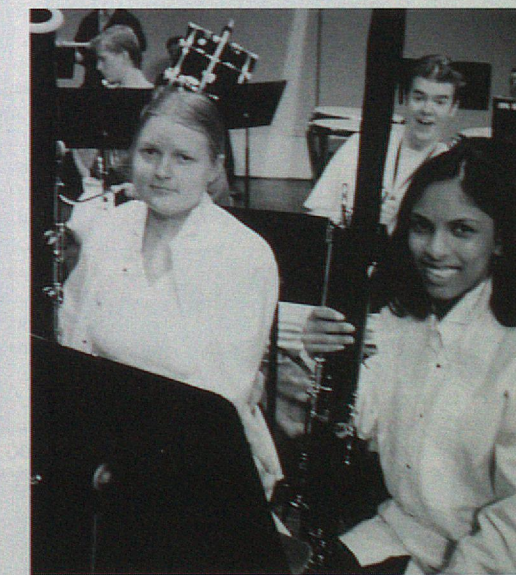

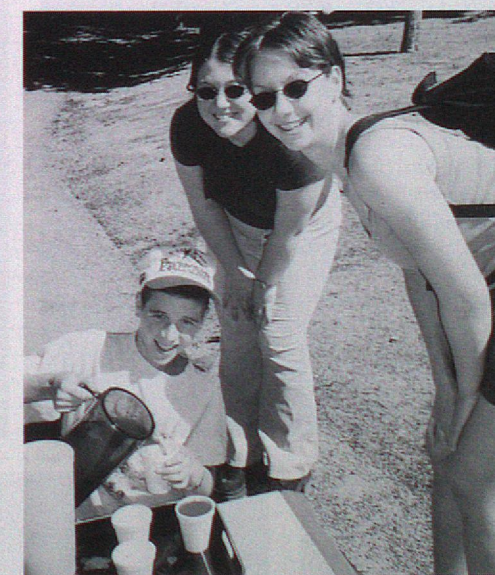

Congratulations on a dedicated and successful year! - Allison Gagné

Valedictory Address

The Times, They are a Changin'

The immortal words of Alice Cooper have weighed heavily on the minds of all graduates over the past week: "Schooooooooooooool's out for summer. Schooooooooooooool's out for ever." While I'm sure we've all sung these words every June since elementary school, they now have a new found sense of sentimentality. But, after a week of celebration, the uncertainty of freedom has officially set in.

This uncertainty is not entirely different from that which we felt at the end of our grade nine year. We had seen every episode of Degrassi High and Saved by the Bell, but were unsure which one high school would be like. Unfortunately, it was not Saved by the Bell, but fortunately, it wasn't Degrassi High either. It was somewhere in between. There was no Joey Jeremiah or Zach Morris, even though Mr. Ferniuk does kind of look like the principal at Degrassi. Some of the same issues exist, but for the most part, Glenlawn has stood alone. The difference between jock and nerd was non-existent while students were actually encouraged, rather than ostracized, for being themselves. This is something which is envied by students all over the city.

During the week between my last exam and today, I have made a few disturbing realizations. Never again will we be given bonbons for raising our hands for silence in French class. Never again will we unite in a sea of blue to intimidate and prove our superiority over the lowly grade tens and elevens. Never again will we collectively laugh at the nutty pizza pirate from Pizza Time. Instead, next year, the candy we eat will be purchased by us and our Spirit Week costumes will land us in prison or the loony bin. Our pizza will be of better quality, but way more expensive. There will be no more attendance, there will be no rules against hats, there will be no more gym class, no more band concerts or playoff games and no more Spirit Week.

For these reasons, I suggest we all refuse our diplomas and register for Glenlawn again next year. No, I don't think that would go over very well with anyone. Instead, let's promise not to forget what we've learned. Number one: Children's books take way longer than you would think. Number two: The Glenlawn library is not bluffing when they say they charge late fees. Number three: Stay away from the hamburgers in the cafeteria. And number four: It's all about process. High school is about learning how to learn and understanding what it takes to function as a successful person.

We've also learned what it is to be role models. Believe it or not, I'm told that the grade tens actually looked up to us this year, and hey, why not? We're pretty gnarly dudes. Anyone who saw the KISS performance at Spirit Week would agree with that. And what about all of those bodacious models from the fashion show? And those M.C.'s! People just don't come any cooler than them. Take your role model status and run with it. Make an effort to be the kind of person that others can look up to. This level of chic did not happen by accident.

Realizing this, I can't help but feel thankful. Thankful for the teachers who have gone beyond the call of duty to make us all smarter, better people. Thank you for playing the role of psychologist, baby-sitter, coach and even friend. Our parents, likewise, deserve a big sloppy kiss for providing us with thirteen years of support and encouragement.

After today, there will be no more late slips but rather pink slips. C.S. Lewis wrote, "Term, holidays, term, holidays, till we leave school, and then work, work, work till we die." This is a scary thought, and for that reason I again suggest that we decline our diplomas and register for Glenlawn next year. Oh yeah, that won't work. Instead of that, why don't we make the best of our remaining schooling. Take it upon yourself to experience things which appear outside of your realm. Learn taе-bo, try tipping a cow, take a bath in Jell-O. These are the kinds of things that only high school or university students could get away with. Heck, we're expected to do this kind of thing. Work is not all it's cracked up to be, so don't rush into it.

If possible, remember last night (and I stress if possible) because some of your weddings won't be that nice. Also, it could be the last time that you'll ever see that one person who has managed to be in just about every one of your classes since grade ten. Those are the people that we tend to miss when university starts. I hope that everyone had a chance to sit back and take it all in last night. It was an unforgettable evening.

Also, never forget the advice our wise teachers have given us over the years. Remember Mr. Poulter's two laws of science: 1) Hot glass looks like cold glass. 2) Glass don't bounce. Remember that Mr. Humphrey knows relationships: ladies, keep in mind that your future husbands live in Toronto and that if it wasn't for grade ten girls, the grade twelve guys would have nobody to go out with. And of course, never forget what Mr. Gump said, "Life is like a box of chocolates, you never know what you're gonna get." Never mind, he never taught here.

It's fair to say that some of the graduates today would spend the rest of their lives in high school if it were possible, while the rest are looking for the exits as I speak. As Mr. Keddie always says, this is one of those issues where reasonable people can reasonably disagree. One thing that cannot be argued is that Mr. Keddie is the smartest man in the universe and if he taught at Glenlawn for thirty-three years, it must be the greatest school in the universe. Smart guys like him don't make mistakes that big.

The last thing that I realized this week is how close we are to being adults. While some of us are eighteen, high school graduation seems to be the event that officially brings us across the threshold into adulthood. We are now those big kids that we were afraid of back in grade four. It is now our duty to inflict the same fear into the children of elementary schools across the city.

Our fears have evolved over the years. At one point we were afraid of the big kids, and now we are the big kids and we aren't afraid of anything. As frightening as it sounds, my only suggestion is to take the advice of Ms. Penner. As she so eloquently stated to me the other day, "Only losers peak in high school." I have faith that none of today's graduates are losers. We have reached that fork in the road that people are always talking about and I have the utmost confidence that you will follow the right path, whether it be university, community college, South Winnipeg Technical Center, the world of work or even upgrading.

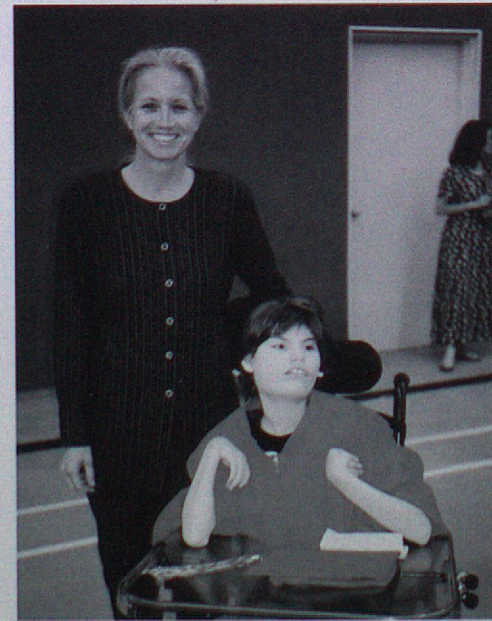

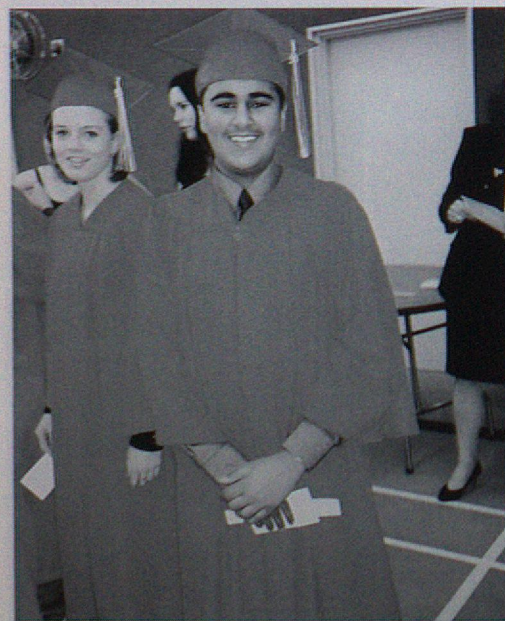

This last month of school has been a whirlwind of English projects, exams and preparations for grad. You probably felt like the busiest person in the entire world at times, but understand that you weren't. There are always those who are busier than you, so don't complain, but instead appreciate it.

And now finally, we have been given our diploma. Realize that given is the key word here. School is really a gift. I'm not suggesting that this holy piece of paper is something that has simply been bestowed upon you. Don't get me wrong, you've earned it. Understand that the diploma is the best graduation present that you will receive today.

This whole school thing is quite ironic when you think about it. After three years of high school education, we are leaving Glenlawn even more confused and unsure than we were when we came here. This sense of uncertainty means that our teachers have done their job. They have instilled in us a skepticism, which is crucial in today's society. We have learned to question everything and take nothing for granted, not even our future. Really, what more can we ask for? Eat your heart out Zach Morris.

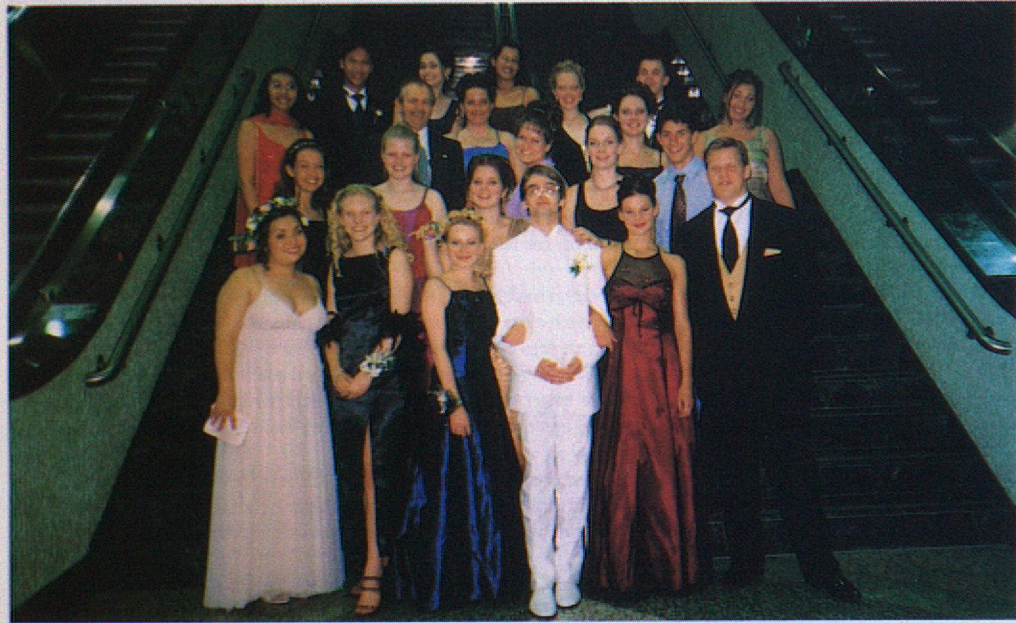

Thank you and good luck.

- Andrew Oliver

It's Show Time

Graduation

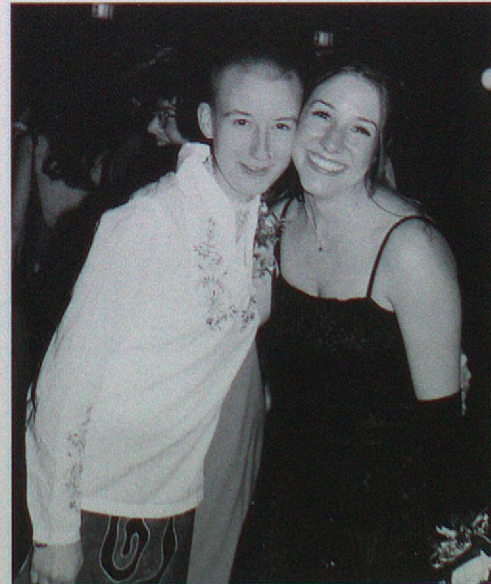

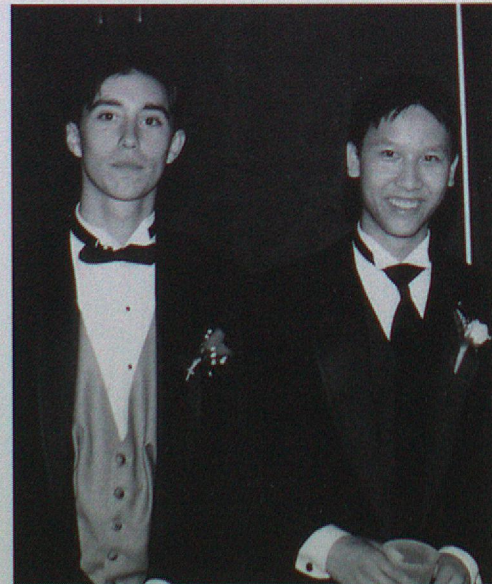

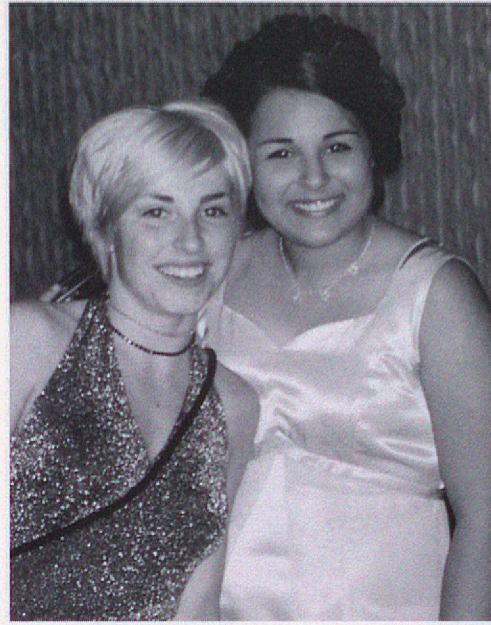

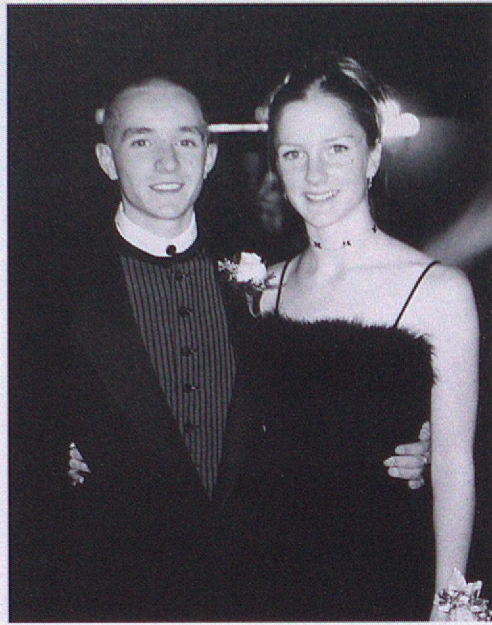

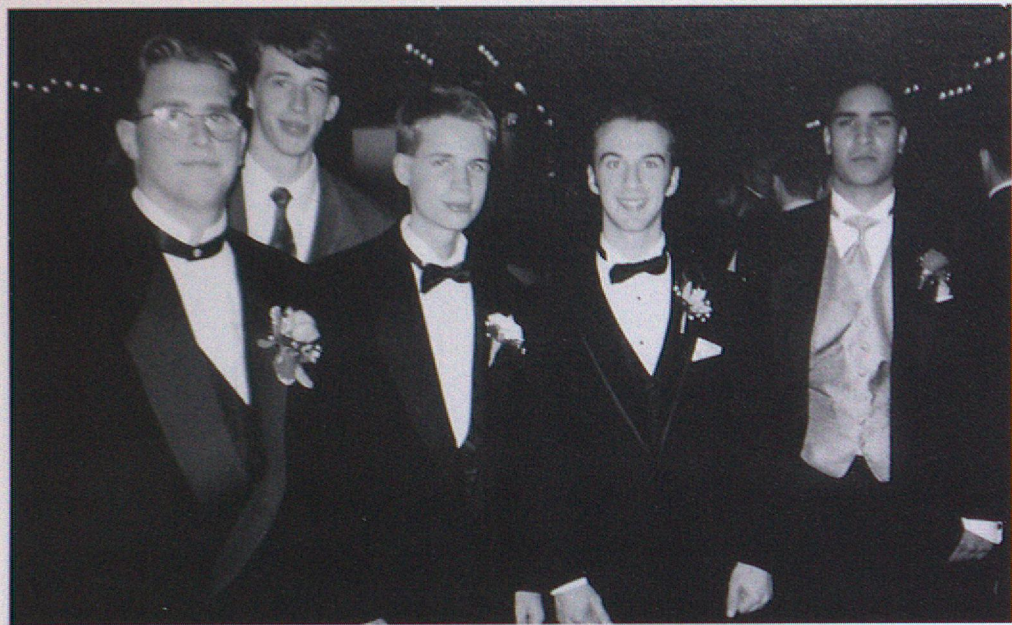

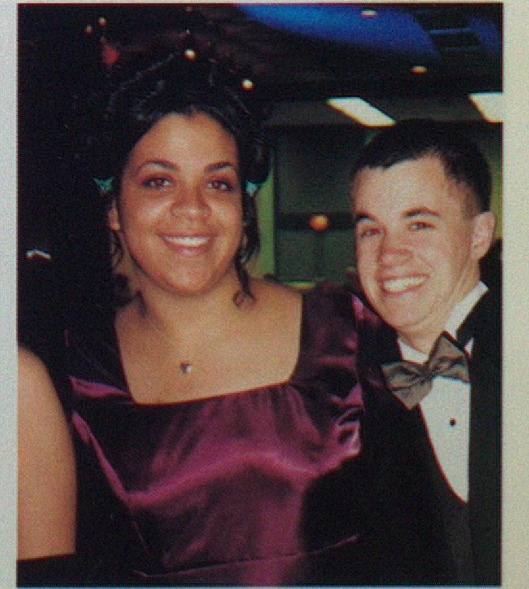

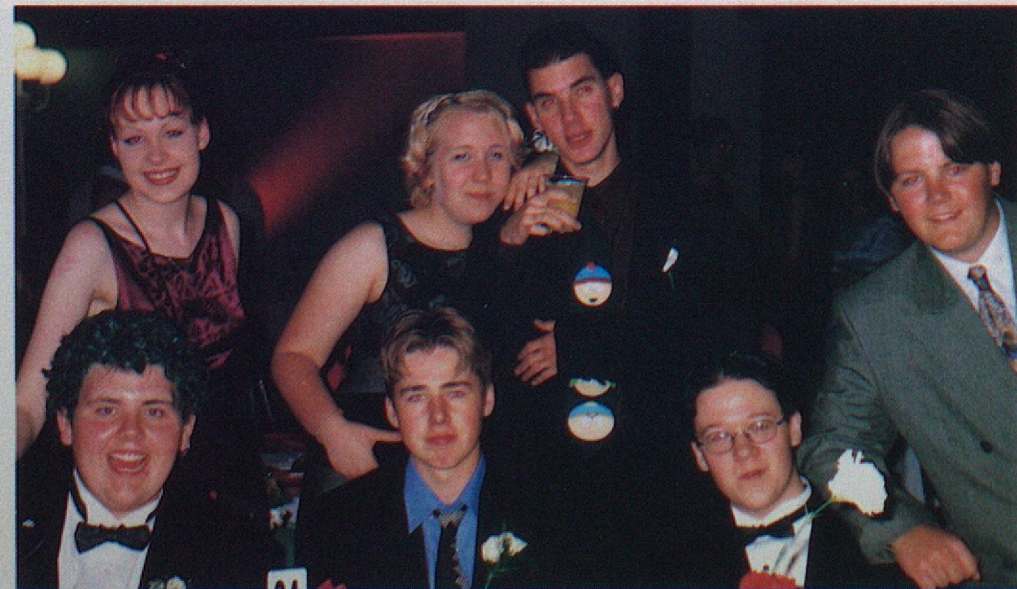

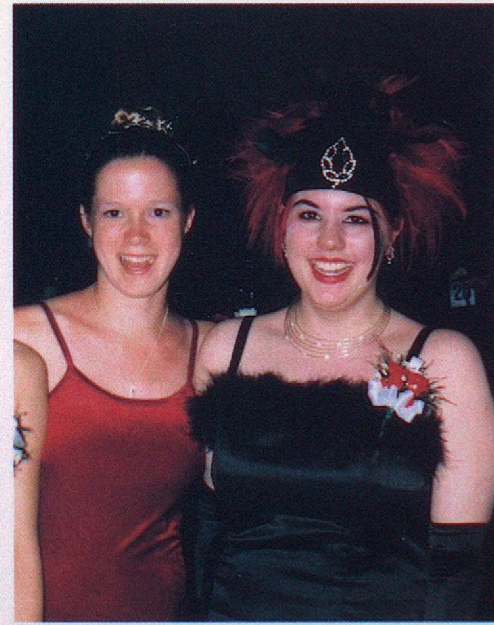

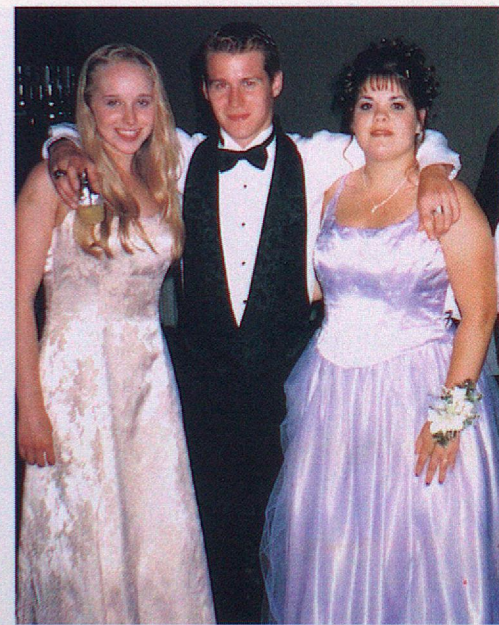

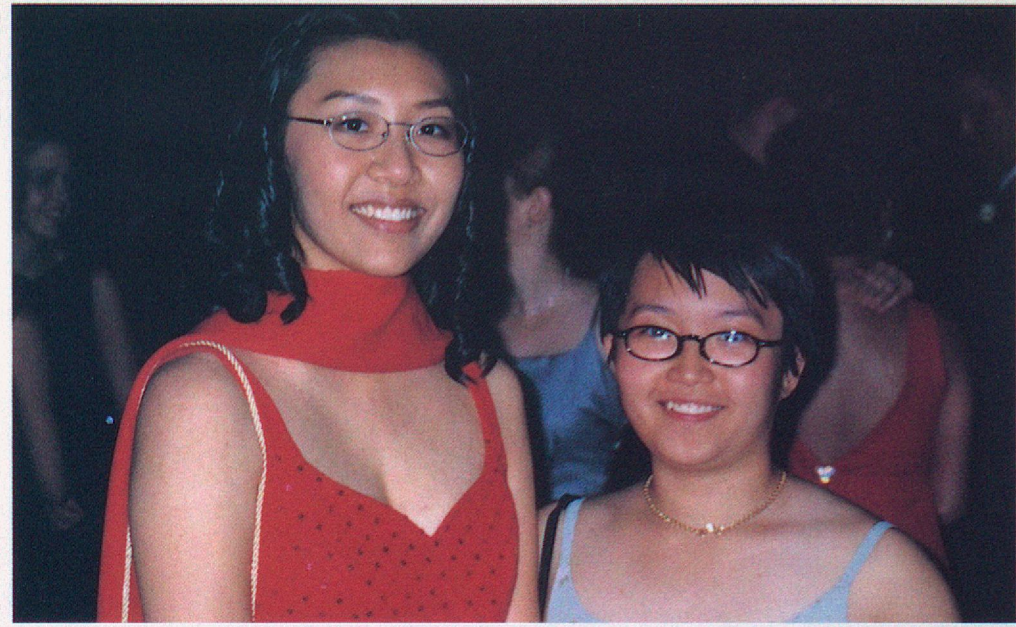

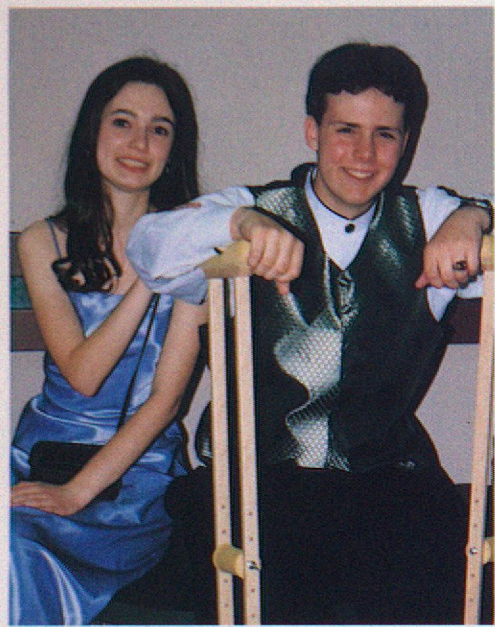

This year's Grad Committee executive was made up of Christie Crow (chair), Andrew Oliver (treasurer), and Leslie Davies (secretary). The extended family was comprised of thirty students, with the highest percentage of male members in history. This year, the Grad Committee ran the "Battle of the Bands", the "Fashion Show" and donated money to the Glenlawn library and scholarship fund. The committee would like to thank Mr. Humphrey for his endless dedication toward this lavish event. - Andrew Oliver
