Message From Administration

"Why do we have to learn this?" Students pose this question regularly, and the answer lies in the pages of this yearbook. Yes, there is evidence that a formal education, including reading, writing and arithmetic, serves as a foundation upon which each student's adult life is built. That is why a high school diploma has come to be such a valued symbol of achievement in our society. There is also clear evidence that a well-rounded education is created by students themselves as they delve into the arts, technology, athletics, as they organize successful student government, volunteer for community outreach, and run dances and shows. Glenlawn teachers know this truth, which explains their willingness to coach and to direct and to facilitate extra-curriculars of a staggering range, and to supplement the standard curricula with experiential learning opportunities such as labs, camps, field trips, guest speakers, mentoring, and contests in everything from robotics to math to French speaking. Our hope is that you will forever learn by doing. 2002 - 2003 was in many ways an education in dealing with change. The amalgamation of the St. Vital and St. Boniface School Divisions into the new Louis Riel School Division brought many challenges. Our students, staff and parents rallied to protect the unique character of this school within the realities of the new Louis Riel Common Framework by presenting to the Board, meeting with the Superintendent, and collaborating on a new timetable that retained our non-semestered advantages. As well, expansion plans announced by the YMCA threatened our access to green space and outdoor athletic training grounds for several key sports. Again, through community activism of the best sort by our Youth For Social Justice and Leadership students, our Glenlawn concerns were acknowledged, and a steering committee, which now includes us, has been struck to begin a collaborative, respectful and inclusive review of the development of Memorial Park.

Another inevitable aspect of change is the "moving on" of important people. That of course includes our 250 graduates, who are off to change the world with their many talents and their well-documented mastery of teamwork, problem solving, lifelong learning, communication and technology. Grads of 2003, your portfolios will be a lasting reminder of Glenlawn, and as you add pages to these portfolios in the future, remember to silently thank your teachers for pushing you to develop skills valued in every walk of life. Also moving on this year are several valued teachers, including Mrs. Briggs who is retiring, and Mr. Kristjanson, Mrs. Quniton, Ms. Jones, Ms. Spelchak, Ms. Yamada, Ms. Leighton, and Mrs. Keller who will be sharing their gifts with new colleagues, new schools next year. Two very significant changes have occurred in the Administrative Office. Mr. Parsons has been promoted to the Principalship of Nelson McIntyre Collegiate, and Mrs. Bulow, the quintessential Glenlawn Lion, is taking a leave after 30 years of service to this school. It would be difficult to find two more principled, demanding, caring, humble, yet gifted high school administrators, and we will miss them. The Glenlawn community wishes our departing students, staff and administrators well, thanks them for their legacies to Glenlawn, and vows to live up to the high standards they have set.

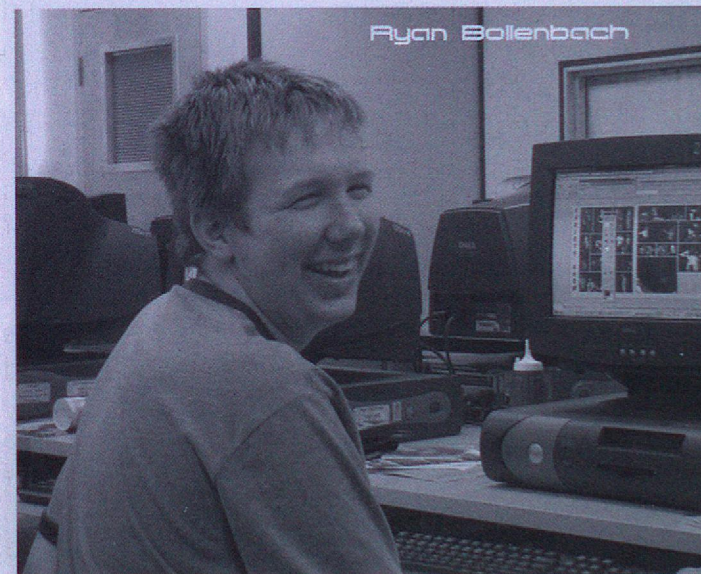

Lions, as you look through these pages in the years to come, it is our hope that your mature vantage point will enable you to appreciate the wonders of your Glenlawn years, to remember with appreciation the community of learners of which you were a part. We also fervently hope that you will be able to say, "I am still learning, I am still growing. I have made the most of the basic skills, the fine examples, the human connections, and the interests and talents awakened and nurtured at Glenlawn Collegiate."

Mrs. Babaian

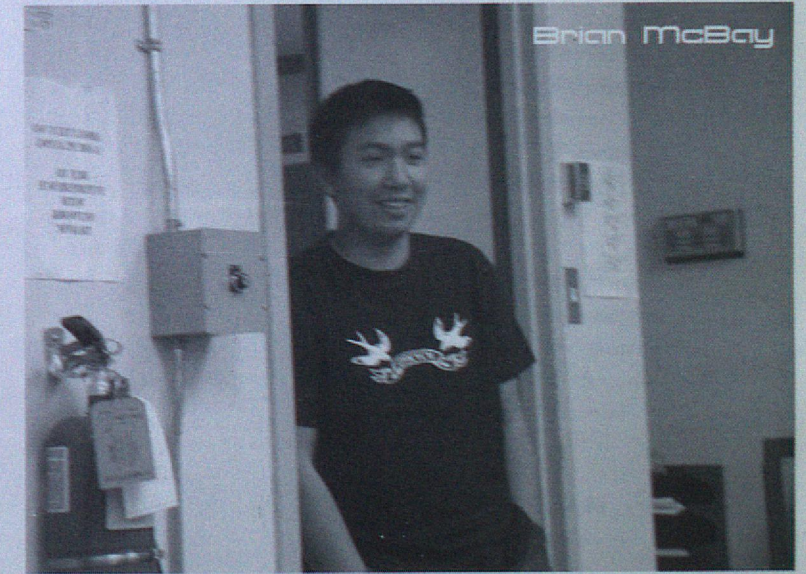

Well, another year has passed and the arduous task of putting the yearbook together has come and gone. This book was made possible by the generous efforts of the Yearbook Staff. The staff included Bryan McBay, Ryan Bollenbach, Pat Tytgat, Allison Lamoureux, Sabrina Pollard, and Ali Chiakoski. The tireless "nagging" of Sabrina and Ali helped to gather the information for the yearbook. The also organized the Senior 2, 3, and 4 layouts. Many of my multimedia students also contributed to the project as well. Chris Savoie was instrumental in developing a cover that represents Glenlawn's diverse student body. Jeremy Jaquet, Mike Woo, Eric Wood, and Mr. Mendoza also contributed a layout each. The ability to get so many people involved is my goal. Students have taken control of the process of developing their yearbook. I would like to thank all the staff for submitting their information via email. It really helped to speed up the process. We look forward next year to the continued support of students and staff. Our goal is always on improving on the previous years efforts. We believe that we have been able to surpass last years efforts. We are pleased to give you Glenlawn Yearbook for 2002-2003. Be sure to look for the Multimedia Yearbook for 2002-2003. Congratulations to all on a successful year and good luck next year.

GLENLAWN PRIDE

★ LEADERS OF TOMORROW ★ UNITE!!!

Leadership 2002-03 - what a year! There were all kinds of volunteerism opportunities both within the school and within the greater community. We assisted with the Manitoba Association of English Teachers S.A.G. Conference at Glenlawn, spear-headed Operation Donation for Winnipeg Harvest (to name just a few school-based volunteering tasks) and participated in voluntarism at more than 50 venues. Perhaps our favourite activity was interacting with our E.S.L. Buddies at St. George School (as you can see from our gingerbread houses at Christmas); Leadership Camp at Camp Assiniboia was also fabulous with great workshops, unforgettable team-building activities AND Supertoastmaster in her cape demonstrating excellent public speaking skills. A superior year for leaders, all in all.

GLENLAWN PRIDE

L.I.O.N. Day 2002 was held on November 20th, 2002. Following a keynote address by Mr. Michael Bayer in which students were wowed by not only his words, but by his magic show, students then had the opportunity of attending career sessions hosted by over one hundred and ten presenters. As well, the gym housed displays and interactive presentations from more than twenty-five institutions or organizations. It was a fabulous day for students to investigate post-secondary and career opportunities.

FRESHMEN BOYS V-BALL

Guided by former glenlawn players Matt Muir, Dave Muir and Colin Wood the Freshmen boys developed into one of the top ranked teams. The boys were ranked as one of the top five teams in the province for the majority of their season that saw them win the westwood tournament and finish second in the River East, Maples, and Glenlawn tournaments. The boys should be commended for their gallant effort. They represent their school like the champions that they are.

VARSITY BOYS V-BALL

The 2002 varsity boy's volleyball team had a season of highs and lows. Some disappointing losses to teams we should have defeated were often followed with some very exciting matches. Two highlights of the season were the consolation final in the Kelowna Secondary Tournament and the very exciting Cloverleaf semi-final against the #4 ranked Dakota Lancers (lost 16-14 in the 5th set). Glenlawn was selected participate in the Provincial Championship Tournament as a wild card team and were ranked #11. They played #6 ranked Westgate in Brandon and that turned out to be their final match to a fairly successful year.

VARSITY GIRLS V-BALL

What a season!! The girls were quarter-finalists in the Seven Oaks, Selkirk, and Kelowna tournament. They made it to the semi-finals in the Crescentwood Classic and finished in 3rd place in the St. Vital Invitational. In a very competitive Cloverleaf, our girls finished tied for 1st place in league play. They defeated Dakota in the semi-finals and College Jean Sauvé in a huge come-back from behind to win in the Conference Finals. Seeded 3rd for Provincials, they defeated 6th ranked Ashern in the quarterfinals. In the provincial semi-finals our girls played in a "match for the ages". Down 2 games to 0 against 2nd seed Brandon Vincent Massey, our girls past up some "Big, Big, Bigblocks!!" and pulled through with the upset win. Our girls moved on to the Provincial final against top ranked Crocus Plains from Brandon. The girls gave a valiant effort but couldn't overtake the top seed. Congratulations on a great season.

The 2003 season was one of growth and promise for the Glenlawn Badminton team. As well, Sean Curcio and Stephen Wright came within a few points of advancing to the provincials, setting for a bronze medal in the cloverleaf finals. In all, it was a good season, with Glenlawn finishing second to only CJS, and many of our players showing a lot of improvement over the season.

The Glenlawn Badminton team was made up of Mary Sanders, Megan Lusty, Michael Tran, Chris Rondeau, Hyle Prior, Matt Wat, Lisa Guan, Mariech Graff, Sean Curcio, Stephen Wright, Imran Shakh, Steven Podworny, Ian Malvor, Jeff Ross, Ryan Wiens, Hyle Aisto, Caitlin Laird, Dustin Marks, Ashley Suffron, Matt Wat, Jillian Sandison, Adam Shields, Nicole Bartel, and Devin St. Godard.

★FAREWELL★MR.★MITCHELL

Hi From The Land Down Under,

Sitting in my lounge room on a small farm in Alexandra, Australia and realising this piece will be published in the yearbook of a senior high school in Winnipeg, Canada, really rounds off what was a remarkable year for my family in 2002.

As an applicant for an International Teaching Fellowship during the year 2001, I had no idea what an impact my exchange would have upon both my professional and personal life.

My year at Glenlawn was simply the most fantastic year of teaching I have had in 23 years. From the first day, I was made welcome by administration, staff and students and not once in my 12 month stay did I ever feel like I didn't belong to the Glenlawn community. That, to me, sums up Glenlawn. The place has spirit. Staff and students respect each other and work in a team environment. Believe me, that is unique in education facilities. What makes Glenlawn special? Perhaps it is spirit week, great Industrial and Fine Arts programs, outstanding sports programs, challenging academic courses, or a great student council. Yet I think most of all, it is students who not only appreciate the talents of others and applaud and share their success but are also there for support in times of disappointment.

Did I ever imagine temperatures in the -40's, plugging in my car, taking 15 minutes extra to dress to go out, mosquitoes as big as B52's, playing rugby, enjoying ice-hockey, listening to a million stories from Mr. Entz and Mr. Humphrey, Ms. Quinton's mad drama classes, being mocked for my accent (paperrr...not paypa Mr. Mitchell), eating lunch at 11:00am or being asked to do a million crocodile hunter impersonations? No way, but I wouldn't have missed it for the world.

I love my mountains and warmth but living as a Winnipegger for 12 months is something for which I am very grateful and will always cherish. Sitting here on the other side of the world I think of all the wonderful classes I experienced and realise that each person at Glenlawn made an impact on my journey through life in a most positive way. I will cherish all the gifts and cards given on my departure but most of all I have a zillion memories of a great year.

To those graduating, may your lives be full of good health and happiness and to those continuing at GCI, work hard and enjoy the offerings of a great school. Thanks for sharing a part of your life with an Aussie.

Crikey mate, it was bonzer!

30 HOUR FAMINE

On Friday, May 23rd at 11:00am, a dedicated group of Glenlawn students finished what would be their last meal until Saturday evening. For the next 30 hours, Famine participants distracted their growling stomachs with Floor Hockey, videogames, Ultimate Frisbee, movies, guitar-playing, homework, hair-braiding, board-games, and reflections on what those living with daily hunger must endure.

Unlike the experience of the world's starving masses, however, relief came predictably at 5pm on Saturday in the form of pizza, chips and chocolate!

This year's 30-Hour Famine successfully raised over $600.00 for Winnipeg Harvest, and provided a glimpse into the lifestyle of plenty we too often take for granted. Thanks to all of the students and staff who made this year's Famine a success!

EMPLOYMENT TRAINING PROGRAM

This was a year of many 'firsts' for the Employment Training Program. The first year of our "Glen Lawn Service" business proved very successful. A sincere thank you to Mr. Yuel for the drumming lessons that culminated in our first year-end concert. Congratulations to students who overcame their fears and participated in our canoeing session and those that braved the cold for ice fishing and snowshoeing lessons. A special 'bravo' to Tina St Pierre for receiving Canada's National Youth Award for her dedication and enthusiasm for volunteer activities.

★ ROBOTICS

The Glenlawn Robotics Team competed in another successful competition at the Eastern Canadian Robot Games. The event was held at the Ontario Science Center in Toronto on Oct 26th and 27th 2002. In the full size robot sumo event Mathew Pritchard took 1st, Darrell McDonald 2nd and Jared Trudeau taking 3rd. Jared also won 2nd in the Autonomous sumo event. A close call we had in T.O. was when Darrell McDonald decided to try and carry on the plane back to Winnipeg, a battery powered grinder. This almost locked up the entire robotics team in jail. The Manitoba Robot Games were also represented well by the GCI Robotics Team. Darrell Guertin and Tyler Webster won the Tractor Pull event. In the Atomic Hockey event, Kirk Champagne placed second. Congratulations to all who actually got their robot to move and show true sportsmanship in a high stress competition.

Visual Arts

Over the course of the school year the students in Art and Visual Art have been very active in both the school and the community. In addition to the 3,000 pieces of Artwork that were produced there was still time to mount exhibitions, do charity work and play an active role in the creation of sets and props for the Drama and Music productions.

Of special significance was the two month long exhibition that was staged at the Manitoba Children's Museum. Sixty-six wood cut outs of fish were designed, painted and displayed by Senior Two and Three students.

We were fortunate enough to involve a large number of students, who worked collaboratively to produce eight large sculptures for the Paediatric Unit of Cancer Care Manitoba. Overwhelmed by the quality and compassion shown by the students, a special request for additional sculptures was made for a Memorial service at the Health Sciences Centre. Collectively, Janna Li, Whitney Light, Laura Magnusson and Buchi Nnadi donated countless hours and energy to ensure the success of these works.

The year concluded with the Annual "New Works for the Wall" exhibition at the Assiniboine Park Conservatory. Over fifty of the very best pieces were exhibited for a two week period and garnered much acclaim.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

My thoughts as a Russian spy were scattered about as randomly as these bubbles. I was unsure of how to start, unsure of how to begin. My latest assignment was like pieces of a puzzle impossible to place. There were so many leade-over 300 graduates, thirteen years of public school, achievements in fine arts, academics, and athletics. But what makes this class a collective group? What makes the Glenlawn grade unique? Does it matter that these 300 individuals spent the last three years roaming the halls of Glenlawn Collegiate? The search was on.

Perhaps, the common thread was the pursuit of the North American dream? Were the graduates only looking for a dream life that depended on material validation? Don't misunderstand me, I agree that the North American dream demonstrates a positive desire to accomplish and excel. However, people tend to lay other important personal characteristics or values on the roadside in order to be able to support their yearning for the brand name clothes, sports cars, and other material items that never create an outcome of satisfaction. There seemed to be more to the common thread, it seemed to be deeper, more meaningful. I felt that I must have been missing something along the trail.

Maybe if I go back and examine individuals I might be able to locate the common thread that interconnected the class. This graduating class consists of over 300 very talented and passionate individuals. Many individuals demonstrated their passion for the environment, like Annie Laiser, and passion to make a difference. Naomi Happychuck put her passion into action by raising money for refugees, along with the help of caring individuals such as Ashley Roch. Many with a passion for scholastic learning could be found including Erika Hunzinger, Sunil Nagra, and Winslow Li. Glenlawn seemed to be filled with caring people that were always willing to lend a helping hand. In the theatre, Mr. Cape always had an extra hand from people including Alison Lamoureux, Christie Way, Joanna Dawson, and Michael Hobday to name a few. In the art room, Mr. Barth knew he could always count on the creative genius of Laura Magnusson, Whitney Light, Janna Li and Suchi Nadi. The woods shop was full of the woodchucks including Vince Hill and Derek Hird. Needing computer assistance? Call on Eric Wood or Phil Coos. Beyond scholastic excellence, unique individuals in a world of conformity could be found, among them were Rob DuBois and Horie Bobchuck. Oh, I shouldn't forget... all of them. There are over three hundred students in Glenlawn Collegiate with an abundance of talent and gifts. It would take too long for me to name them all.

Yes, the number of fantastic and gifted individuals has combined to create a superior school. However, I still do not see a common thread. Sure, people are making a fabulous contribution in terms of excellence. These people can be found in programs that Glenlawn is well known for within the community. Programs including basketball and volleyball teams, theatre and musical productions to name a few. In fact, there are many excellent individuals in programs that are not as well known in the community or even within the school. The robotics and industrial art programs, athletics including wrestling, rugby and badminton are a few examples. Although these excellent programs contribute to the positive atmosphere of Glenlawn, they are not the common thread.

This positive atmosphere has allowed students to feel comfortable enough to take risks in Glenlawn. This encouragement to take risks has led to the involvement of students in a wide range of activities. Students who are talented in the band program are encouraged by a peer to try wrestling. Within wrestling another individual encourages the student to give volleyball a try. The student may encourage their peers to give an instrument a shot. This encouragement to take a risk and try a new activity expands individual students' abilities and relationships, as well as creating a school with multi-faceted people. As Eric Jong realized, "everyone has a talent. What is rare is the courage to follow that talent to the place where it leads." Glenlawn encourages through peers and teachers to make that courageous leap, just as a robin encourages her young to take that first leap in order to learn to fly.

This encouragement only works because individuals feel comfortable enough in the Glenlawn environment to take that risk. In fact, Glenlawn has individuals that participate in rugby, and band, and student council and computer graphics. Wait a minute... That is it! The common thread within this class is the acceptance of diversity. I have been on many assignments in various schools and have not seen the acceptance of diversity that is found within the walls of Glenlawn Collegiate. This class has individuals with multiple and various talents. Talents and gifts that crossover into many various areas. This leads not only to a tolerance of differences, but an encouragement of diversity.

I have seen many cases throughout my career, and this is definitely a special group of individuals. My hope is that all of these graduates will follow Henry Van Dyke's philosophy and "use what talent (they) possess; the woods would be very silent if no birds sang except those that sang best". Nurture your gift, your talent. As this class is moving out, the nurturing environment of Glenlawn is being left behind. No longer will the teachers be nagging for the best work you can give. It is up to you to nurture your gift, and not wisely let it lay by the roadside. Share it with everyone willing to accept your gift, share it with the world and you will be amazed at what occurs. You may not realize the impact that you may have, for when you influence a single person's life you influence many more. Wait another minute, I think I've solved this case without even using up all my bubbles.

My thoughts are now as uniform as a single bubble. Case solved. Time to enjoy the company of those unique and diverse and fun loving grads. I might even share my bubbles.
