As I reflect on the past ten months, I am excited to celebrate all the successes that our students and staff have enjoyed this year. The renovations done to the school, especially The Den, have continued to foster a community of learners and a sense of collaboration wherever you go in the school.

I look back on how our students demonstrated citizenship and gave back to our community and supported our city's less fortunate. As much as I know organizations such as Siloam Mission, Agape Table and our school division benefited from GCI's hard work and generosity, it is my hope that our students benefited as much or more from the experience.

At Glenlawn, we continue to make connections with our family of schools with the hope that when every child enters GCI for the first time in grade 9 that it already feels like home. I wish the class of 2017 all the best in their future endeavors and hope that they cherish the memories that they had here at Glenlawn.

I look forward to working with those that are returning, and those that are leaving; remember you will always be part of the pride.

Retiring Teachers

Mrs. Stoyko

On behalf of the students and staff of Glenlawn, we would like to thank these exceptional teachers who devoted their time and passion to help their students grow during the high school experience. Thank you for your service and dedication the Glenlawn and Lion Pride. We will miss you and wish you the best in your retirement.

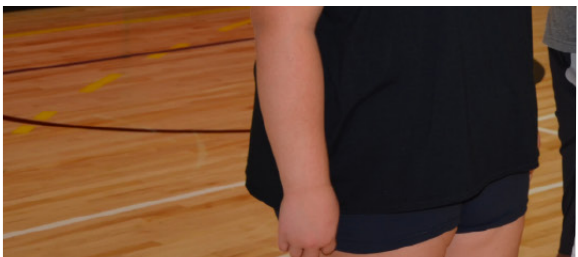

Mrs. Skene

Clubs

There are several clubs, for everyone to join. Kids advance in their culture, writing skills, and a lot more!

GAY STRAIGHT ALLIANCES

The Glenlawn Gender and Sexuality Alliance had another banner year. The students were involved in many activities this year including bake sales, Rainbow Day, a movie night showcase in the theatre and also marched in Winnipeg's annual Pride Parade. The bake sale and Rainbow Day proceeds helped to raise money to buy more LGBTQ books for our library. Mr. Pollett and Mr. Crowe would like to thank the students for another incredible year of raising awareness and promoting inclusivity at Glenlawn Collegiate.

SuperSmash Bros

2016-2017 marked the 2nd year of the GCI Smash Club and Team. They have worked hard at exemplifying skill and talent in the eSport community. This year the GCI Smash Team participated in 2 tournaments, one hosted here at Glenlawn and the other hosted by Archwood Middle School. The team represented GCI well and fought hard in both tournaments. Finishing 2nd with a close call for 1st in the Archwood tournament, the team demonstrated skill, poise and talent that has only increased since we started the team the previous year. The GCI Smash club also participated in a tandem group event with the GSA club where we had a game night together in the theatre. We created a mini tournament and had a blast with members of the GSA community here at GCI. Thanks for another great year! Mr. Balko and Mr. Krahn.

Connections Club is a faith based student led club. Approx. 20 students meet weekly to enjoy a snack, a game, an "I am Second" video and a prayer time together. Our club is active in a variety of other ways including meeting for "See you at the Pole" and breakfast in September, filling 20 Operation Christmas Child Boxes and collecting toiletries for Sam's Christmas for local needy families.

The students enjoy sharing free cookies, candies and freezies with Glenlawn students as "Random Act of Kindness" as well as treating the staff to mint treats to thank them for their encourage"mint", commit"mint", invest"mint" and involve"mint." As our year end event Connections Club served a free pizza supper and presented the Movie "God's Not Dead 2" to 100 students and staff. Thankful for a great year!

Foreword by Rylee McQuat

The process of reading through and selecting the pieces for this year's issue was of course, quite the task. As time went on the editors began to recognize an underlying concept. Though we did not set out to publish a book with a central theme, a theme has nonetheless emerged: Longing.

Longing for empowerment, structure, and love. Longing for learning and acknowledgment, for compassion. In so many of the selected works, we saw evidence of this undeniable feeling, a feeling everyone can speak truthfully about through their own personal experience.

It's a powerful emotion full of mood, depth and potential. Certainly it made for numerous lovely, rich pieces. We invite you to discover and enjoy this collection to when you may be seeking a dose of creativity with skillfully provoked big thinking.

Best Wishes

Tansii, Boozhoo! Glenlawn Indigenous Voice and Action Council had a great second year. We met weekly to smudge, discuss important issues, and plan for a number of conferences and events. We organized our second annual Orange Shirt Day, and helped put on an Indigenous education professional development conference for over 400 teachers. Graduating student Taz McKay danced a Grass Dance for the entire school in our Explosion of Awesomeness in December, and we also had visits from divisional elder Jules Lavallee, who came to speak about Indigenous Youth Leadership and the importance of using our individual gifts. Our year ended on a high note as Glenlawn hosted our divisional Graduation Pow Wow in honour of LRSD grads. Great learning experiences were had by all, and GIVAC students represented their school extremely well.

On September 30th 2016, Glenlawn's Indigenous Voice and Action Council organized our second annual Orange Shirt Day as a part of the "Every Child Matters Campaign". Students and staff wore orange in recognition and support of those who attended the Indian Residential School System in Canada. Discussions were held regarding the legacy of the Indian Residential Schools System, and the importance of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's 94 Calls to Action. ReconciliACTION was our continued theme throughout the year.

G.I.V.A.C

The SongWriting Club focuses on writing original music and lyrics. They began the year by writing songs and performed at Explosion of Awesomeness, and they also got the opportunity to record songs at a professional studio.

One of the songs called "I don't know" was performed May 9th at McNally Robinson for the book release of "Ignite"; the school magazine.

Interact

Every year the Interact Club fundraises for both an international and a local charity. This year, the Interact Club hosted a Trivia Night and raised $1000 for Shelterbox, our international charity. Shelterbox provides emergency shelter and tools for families robbed of their homes by disasters. For our local charity, we hosted our annual Talent Show with all proceeds going to RAY, (Resource Assistance for Youh). RAY is a non profit organization that works with homeless youth.

Talent Show

Youth in Philanthropy

As usual, part of our committee's year involved researching and visiting various charitable organizations. We distributed $5,381 of grant money to nine organizations for various purposes, such as veterinary bills at Winnipeg Pet Rescue and restocking the food pantry at RAY (Resource Assistance for Youth). Committee members volunteered throughout the year, including YM/YWCA 'Kids Helping Kids' Walk-a-Thon and Agape Table. YIP held fundraisers including pizza lunches and a beach photo booth as part of a campaign to sponsor, cook, and serve a meal at Agape Table in 2017-18.

BASKETBALL

The JV Boys basketball team had a successful year. After finishing second in the SCAC regular season, the team lost in the league finals to Dakota Collegiate. The team's body of work was solid and earned them a wild card spot in the provincials. Unfortunately they lost in the first round. Overall, it was a great season and the coaches are very proud of the team's hard work!

It was a very fun year coaching such a talented bunch of boys for both the indoor and outdoor seasons. The indoor season started off very slowly but the boys made a run for it and managed to make it all the way to the B side championship game, settling for the B side finalist's medal. During the outdoor season, the boys successfully captured the SCAC division title and made it all the way to the MHSAA Provincials. After some intense and close games, the boys finished in 3rd place, the best finish for Provincials in over 10 years. The team showed their passion for the game throughout the season and continued to persevere no matter what the circumstances were. On behalf of the coaching staff, we are very proud of them for their success this season and look forward to building on it next year. Excellent work boys!

 Outdoor team extra "new players": Aby D., Anna M., Kylie W., Veronica J.

The girl's indoor soccer team had a very successful season. Lots of hard work and dedication to the team throughout the year led the team to the A side Championship game. The girls battled hard throughout the game and came away with the silver medal and consolation banner. The girls are to be congratulated for such a wonderful Indoor season.

The Outdoor season was short but the girls played until the final whistle each game. The team consisted of a few new faces added to our already existing indoor team. We welcomed Anna McC., Kylie W., Aby D. and Veronica J. to the squad. The team was a tight unit and worked well together on the pitch. Thanks girls for a wonderful year.

Curling

The girls curling team had a great season. We had five players, with different levels of experience that came together to create a fantastic team. The team had some tough competition, with some great victories and great defeats, but most importantly, they gave it their all, and represented our school with Lion pride.

LACROSSE

Glenlawn Lacrosse had a good season playing in the Manitoba High School Field Lacrosse League. We started with a win and a tie on the first Super Friday of the year hosted at Glenlawn Collegiate. Over the course of the season we saw a great deal of growth and development in both our experienced and new players. Our season ended with winning the final two games, claiming the Division 2 Consolation Championship. We are looking forward to the coming seasons and watching the young nucleus develop and compete. Thanks to everyone who came out to support us this year.

Fierce, Passion and Dedication, all words used to describe the 2017 season for the GCI Girls' 7's rugby team. The team was full of character and skill which allowed them to have a successful season. A wide variety of players came together for a common goal. From the start, the GCI Lions Girls' rugby started off strong and picked up where they left off from the previous year. The level of intensity and determination picked up steam as the season progressed. The girls trained and practiced hard, and played even harder. Starting the season off in the snow and ending the season with a 13-5 record, the girls came together as a team and pushed each other to play better every week. The girls earned a spot in the Champion Flight of Games and finished with a strong 3rd place finish!

Overall a successful season with a strong finish !

The 2017 season focused on themes of high fitness levels from hard conditioning at practice, running direct lines and supporting in attack and lastly, coming up hard in defence to put the opposition under pressure.

The 2017 Glenlawn Lions were quite successful. They capped off the season with 4-2 record, competed in a good contest with a strong Sisler Spartans side and came up short in the semi final. The boys gave it their all and growth was eminent from the start of the season.

The coaches were honored to coach this group of hard working young men. Everyone involved will eagerly be awaiting the 2018 High School Rugby season and another opportunity to teach a young group of high school boys the sport that foster toughness, character and respect.

In it's second year of existence, the fall of 2016 provided new challenges for the girls' hockey team. With the graduation of 6 players, the team showed promise early in the season, winning 4 of the first 6 games. After a long, regular season the girls faced 2nd place West Kildonan in a "best of 3" semifinal playoff series. In the end, the girls endured the rigorous season and were successful by living by their motto of "never give up".

Glenlawn's boys hockey team continued to build on their first season, highlighted by a third place finish at the Dryden Invitational Hockey Tournament. Good luck to our graduating students and for our returning students, the future looks bright!

This year's Glenlwan Sports Banquet was a wonderful way to wrap up another season of athletics at our school. It is an opportunity for teammates and coaches to sit together one last time and celebrate all that they accomplished throughout their season, with an opportunity to celebrate individual and team accomplishments. Each year, we induct a new member into our Wall of Fame. This year's inductee, Hank Lemione, led a storied athletic career and went on to continue in athletics as an adult, still active as a baseball umpire to this day. Hank's example highlighted to our students that athletics can carry on far past their high school life and to always seek new challenges. The Phys-ed department would like to extend a special thanks to all the coaches for their time and energy that they commit to our students. We would not have achievements to celebrate without your efforts.

M A T H

Many students worked hard in math classes this year, and many appreciated the amount they were able to learn. It was great to get Mr. Thoroski back in the afternoons as he recuperated. They also competed and won several math contests such as the: Canadian Intermediate Mathematics Contest (Grades 9 and 10), Canadian Senior Mathematics Contest (Grades 11 and 12), Fryer Contest (Grade 9), Galois Contest (Grade 10), Hypatia contest (Grade 11), and Euclid Contest (Grade 12).

FAMILY

Family Studies helped students discover the enormous commitment and emotional maturity that it takes to raise a child. After a weekend with the simulated baby, students realized that the responsibility of caring for an infant was greater than they had realized! As students planned to create a home for an infant, the financial obligation became apparent. We even visited the Birth Center to learn different options for giving birth. Our class was fortunate enough to have guests explain to us the difficulty of living with or having a family member who lives with physical challenges. Family Studies Students have certainly gained a new respect for their parents!

In English this year we are happy to celebrate the successful launch of our creative writing class. The class saw a number of young writers be celebrated and published. In the Pandora Poetry contest Jodi H. [Grade 11] took 1st prize and Lilja B. [Grade 11] took 3rd prize. Andrew L. [Grade 12] is a successful participant in Polar Expressions Publishing's National Student Short-Story Contest and is published in the anthology, Progress. As well Jared F. [Grade 12], continues to have his work published. This year also saw students create incredible work, with powerful messages, in a number of different mediums. The artistic, writing, and performing talent of Glenlawn Collegiate continues to impress and 2016-2017 was no different.

CO-OP ED

This was a busy and exciting year in Co-op. Students learned many things about themselves and the world around them, while integrating their academic studies. Students participated in the Musical, and hosted the seniors' Matinée, acting as GCI hosts and hostesses, making lunch, and serving honoured guests. The GCI Co-op team came in first in the Divisional Basketball Tournament and first in Divisional Soccer. The students enjoyed playing against other teams in LRSD and reconnecting with friends made from other schools. In February, students participated in the Arts Festival and tried graffiti art, stage combat, Hip Hop, and other creative activities. Congratulations to our six graduates this year: Jordan A., Jordon P., Vernon L., Dante V., Dylan H., and Hailey K-C.

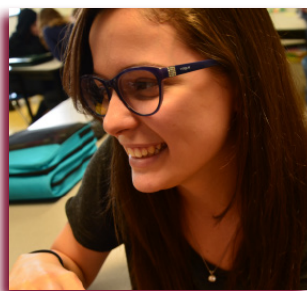

The excitement of the French speaking world came alive for students this year! French classes were treated to opportunities to practice their language skills while experiencing authentic French culture. Some of this year's highlights include:

- Trips to restaurants, a bakery, a chocolatier and even to the cafeteria to sample French cuisine.
- A French drama workshop
- A French movie
- French music

F r e n c h

The Spanish class had a blast doing the Just Dance (unleash your inner dance) Latin moves. The class was very dynamic and students started to sharpen their skills in making sentences as well oral communication.

Hola Chico (a) became the new word in the hallway. We tasted the famous pupusas (Salvadorian cousine) and made the sugar skeleton for the Dia de los Muertos (Day of the Dead) celebration.

Hasta pronto.

SKILLS FOR LIVING PROGRAM

The staff at Glenwood Community Centre appreciated the weekly volunteer work from Emma, Braden, Alex, and Bryton. Along with Dylan, Ashley-Marie, Rachele, and Duga, they helped the folks at the Winnipeg Evangelical Free Church with a variety of jobs. The staff and residents of Meadowood Manor enjoyed Josiah's weekly volunteering. A big thank you to the staff of both the Glenwood Community Centre and the Winnipeg Evangelical Free Church for showing their appreciation by inviting the group for a great lunch. We fielded a team for the Nikki Redekop Memorial Volleyball Tournament and had a great time contributing to this cause.

Congratulations to Ivy and Mark on their graduation and best wishes to them in their future endeavors.

A school year can go by quickly and this one certainly did. Some special activities again marked the school year. In December, students participated in the wonderful Snowman Holiday Jam concert at the Legacy Center. Students improved their skills in the swim classes at the Pan Am Pool. Mr. Holowachuk kept us in shape in the phys. ed. classes. Mr. Quinn continued to bring out our best in musical talent. Emma, Rachele, Josiah, and Ashley-Marie sang in the Riel Harmony Choir at several performances.

Successful Futures

The Successful Futures Program (S.F.P.) is a program for Grade 10 - 12 students that provides a pathway to graduation with a focus on direct entry into the work force, ATC, MITT, community college or apprenticeship programs.

Students have the opportunity to go out and complete work experiences for three weeks each semester at various job sites.

Mr. Pelland and Mr. Moyes provide outstanding mentorship to the S.F.P. students and help many of them to attain employment after their work placements.

Band

Congratulations to all Band members on a very successful year of music making! From our in-house concerts, October Band Workshop, Optimist Festival, the Louis Riel School Division Concert Band Celebration, and the Canadian Rocky Mountain Festival in Banff, the students showed much heart and determination in all of their endeavors. This was certainly a year to remember! Music helps to bring us together and make us a family. Thank you for being part of such a wonderful family and making everyday a worthwhile endeavor for our school.

JAZZ JUNCTION

Choir

It was another fantastic year for both the concert choir and the vocal jazz ensemble, Jazz Junction. They both performed at Choralfest in November and sang concerts in the theatre in December and May. The groups continued a Glenalwn tradition when they performed at the Canadian Rocky Mountain Festival in Banff in April. A big highlight for the choir was their performance of Carmina Burana with the Winnipeg Symphony in the spring.

All the successes experienced this year were due in large part to the effort put in by the members of the choir. They exemplified sacrifice and hard work as the path to excellence, continuing to sing at a standard that is worthy of the Glenlawn name. Congratulations on an amazing year of singing!

sing loud."

Banff

Banff is the most important week for the music program. The Annual Canadian Rocky Mountain Musical Festival in Banff is the event the music program looks forward to every year. Students and teachers alike can watch, listen and participate. Everyone learns so much from the experience. We start off the trip as a band, a choir, an ensemble or a vocal group and spend 19 + hours talking, laughing, not sleeping, on the bus ride. What started off as separate components of the music program, came back as a family.

Guitar

Coffee House is an event where the guitar students show of their skills and creativity learnt over they school year. What a great group of students, we are very proud of your performance and hard work!

SHREK THE MUSICAL

"I'm so lucky to attend a school that supports what I love to do, because of the musical, I've been able to become a better performer and create so many amazing memories that I will keep with me forever." - Victoria Turko (Princess Fiona)

"The musical has been an unforgettable experience. It's like having a second family. I was able to make new friends and work with so many talented and hard working people. I am truly grateful to have this kind of opportunity and I look forward to next year." - Maggie Cheng ( Young Princess Fiona)

"Musical was very unexpectedly joyous and memorable experience. I was honoured with the best company and show, and I will never forget it. I hope everyone's experience in the musical is as life changing as mine was." - Ashley (Donkey)

"Musical thought me how to be humble and to enjoy working and learning from others. In this program I made the best friends ever that didn't make me feel like an outsider from being from the other side of the world. I will never be able to fully thank every single person that made me have one of the best experiences in my life yet." - Gaia (Cast Member)

"Musical was a blast this year. It was such a great cast, creative team, and script. The whole experience had me weak in the legs. Literally." - Dane B. (Farquaad)

"Shrek has been one of the best experiences in my high school career. I learned a lot, and I gained a family. Granted, that family is one that is essentially an endless stream of bad jokes and random bursts of song, but I loved it all." - Thomas M. (Shrek)

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

A young man with glasses and a grey t-shirt is holding a square wooden frame in front of his face. He is standing in a classroom or workshop. In the background, there are desks, a whiteboard with handwritten notes, and a poster that says "SMOK". The whiteboard has a list of items and a calculation:  $1 \times 6 \times 48 = 288$  and  $144 = 144$ . There are also safety signs on the wall, including one that says "NO PHONE ZONE" and another that says "BE CAREFUL THIS MACHINE HAS NO BRAIN... USE YOUR OWN".

Glenlawn's Industrial Arts students advance in their woodworking, mechanic, and artistic skills.

Lion Night

Undergrad Awards

Lion Night celebrates the MANY accomplishments that our students demonstrated during the 2015/16 academic year. Students are recognized for their achievements in any or all of the following categories; Pride of Glenlawn, Academic Excellence and/or Subject Merit. The future is in the hands of our students, and we are confident that they will keep the values and traditions alive at Glenlawn with the same determination, compassion and integrity that have allowed them to be recognized at this event.

You have made us proud!

VALEDICTORIAN

Thank you to our parents and family members. You have stood by us throughout all of our accomplishments as well as our failures, and somehow still managed to reserve an unwavering sense of belief in us. Every minute that we have spent wondering where we'll land, you have wondered twice as long. Every time we discovered a new passion, you wondered. Every time we couldn't reach a goal, you wondered. Every time you signed a check for us, you wondered. How does this fit? How will this affect my child in the future? Will it make them happy? You were there to ask questions, even before we knew which questions to ask. So thank you, for always being there to point us in the right direction. Thank you for being our compass, with you we know we will never truly be lost.

High school isn't easy. We're challenged academically, emotionally, socially, but it's made a little bit easier by the people around us. I would like to encourage my peers to thank each other, and to take time today to thank everyone in the Glenlawn community who has helped them reach this point.

GCI is an extraordinary place, and it's beyond difficult to describe the atmosphere to those who have not lived it.

Within the walls of our school there is a home for everyone, and everyone is accepted. It doesn't matter where you were born - if you're from Canada, Nigeria, or Ukraine. It doesn't matter if you're LGBT, or an ally. It doesn't matter if you're a jock, a theatre geek, or somewhere in between. Because we may be different people, on different flights, travelling to different places, but we still all discovered something amazing together. We discovered ourselves alongside each other. Our passions, our flaws, our fears. We taught each other more about ourselves, and the world, and what it takes to be a person than we could ever learn within the confines of a classroom.

At Glenlawn, learning doesn't stop when you close your textbook. Everyone is different, and everyone has something new to teach. Whether it's a culture, a skill, or a few words of wisdom, these lessons pour from people and are absorbed by others. We teach math lessons in dirt during fire drills, and we make friends with people who speak different languages. We exchange knowledge in the hope that we are better preparing ourselves, and each other for what comes after the cap and gown. Because, as Mr. Kornberger likes to say, "We're all in this together". We win together. We lose together even if we'd rather not talk about that week. Together we aren't just kids. We aren't just students. Together, we're lions. And no one can ever take that away from us.

This day provides us all with the chance to come together one last time, and say goodbye. Not only to each other, but

The other night, driving past Victor Wyatt, I watched a young boy climb to the top of the outdoor bleachers. I was confused by the determined look on his face as he raced up the steps, and couldn't help but wonder what could be so important to this one kid. As he pulled a folded white page from his pocket and released it into the air, we rounded the corner, and I lost sight of him. I haven't been able to look at paper airplanes the same since that day.

Now... when I see planes slicing through classrooms I can't help but to admire the symbolism. In a way, these airplanes are indicative of our school experience. For the last several years we have been crafting ourselves these vessels in preparation of our flights from home. We spent our time in elementary, and junior high, learning basic cuts and folds, until we graduated to high school and we entered this space where there is freedom to plan our own flight patterns. And despite the fact that paper is flimsy and inaccurate, and we don't really have control of the plane once we let go, there is still something beautiful to be said about surrendering some of the control we have over where we land. And there is something to be admired about how much effort we invest in building the perfect design to carry us through our travels.

But of course, along the way we required a bit of assistance. Well, maybe more than a bit. Okay, probably a lot. I would like to take this time to thank the office staff for running our little paper airport, and the custodial staff for providing us with a safe place, even through the mess of creativity.

Thank you to student services for taking time to discuss every crash landing that brought us back to square one, and thank you to the faculty, for not only educating us in History, Science, and Literature, but for sharing with us much more profound lessons than that; for teaching us how to navigate our own flight paths, and for always sharing a laugh.

ADDRESS 2017

to a place that has become our home as well. Soon we will forget what it's like to walk through Glenlawn's halls, and when we return to visit, everything will feel strange and vaguely different. But it will still always feel important. Earlier in the year I had the chance to visit my old elementary school. I was excited to visit my first teachers, but during the trip to the building I found my mind wandering away from what I planned to say to them, and focusing more on how fictional my surroundings felt. The air of unfamiliar familiarity continued to hold me even once I had arrived at the building, if not more so. I found myself passing insignificant little landmarks pushing themselves to the forefront of my attention, alongside sticky memories and forgotten stories: the play structure where I lost my first tooth, the bench I was sitting on when I experienced my first broken heart, or the coat-hook I was beside when I made my first friend. I couldn't help but compare all of my firsts with my upcoming lasts, and the infinitely terrifying feeling that accompanies leaving behind everything that I've ever known.

Today we have all received one-way tickets away from our childhood, and towards something new. Not better or worse, but different than what we've known thus far. We can no longer shrug off every warning thrown at us by adults about the dangers of the 'real world'.

WARNING: Prolonged time spent adulting will result in fatigue, stress, and debt. Also, taxes.

These cautionary tales have been fed to us so many times over the last year that I've actually lost count, but we are still all unbelievably excited to move forward. And that's not to say that we aren't scared about taxes, believe me we are.

We're masquerading as adults right now, trying to cover up the fact that we're absolutely terrified of growing up. Trying to figure out what we're going to be, and where we're going to end up, but we are comforted by the fact that we have to land somewhere. We will experience the world for ourselves, and make our own decisions, both good and bad. And these experiences will become invaluable to our lives.

So even though it's scary to grow up, we are all still anxious to move forward. The anticipation is contagious, rippling through our seats like dominoes, the second that first name was called. I am beyond ready for everything that my future holds, but I also can't wait to hear all of the tales my fellow graduates will collect over the next couple of years. I am sure they will all be their own kind of spectacular (and most likely plastered all over Instagram).

However, I'm not going to stand up here and tell you that you are all destined for greatness, the world is your oyster, and it's welcoming you with open arms.

Because,

A) It's incredibly cheesy.

B) It's not completely true.

Don't get me wrong, I truly believe that you are all deserving of everything that you have worked towards, but you aren't destined for greatness. You aren't destined for anything. Success isn't going to fall into your lap, and who am I to tell you that it will. What I can tell you is that we all get a chance.

We all have the chance to work for the life we desire, and yes some of us have to work harder than others. Some of us have to struggle with immigration, or money, or broken families, but if we're willing to push through our challenges and work to achieve our goals, then through our hard work and perseverance we can find a chance to succeed. We may not all have the same starting point, but if we put effort into everything that we do, then we will get our chance to take a swing at the world.

In many ways, we are all still kindergarteners spinning globes and choosing locations at random, saying "maybe I'll live there one day". We might land in the ocean 70% of the time, but with every failed attempt at finding a place where we belong, we are given the chance to spin again.

We are all approaching the rest of our lives with turbulence and unwavering speed, but we must remember that we are the ones that determine the places we go and in order to reach that somewhere where we belong, we have to be willing to take those chances, we have to be willing to fail often so that we can succeed faster.

Over the last couple of months, I have found myself enamored with the prospect of being lost. After years of only living for the future, locking myself away with fear and doubt, I now want nothing more than to live in the here and now. And it took me a very long time to realize that there is absolutely nothing wrong with that.

Every step that you take out of your comfort zone brings you closer to that someone, somewhere you've always wanted to be.

And as much as it's terrifying to even consider life without a predetermined destination, I can't wait for the final bell to ring. I can't wait to climb to the highest peak I can find, and throw as hard as I possibly can. Just like the boy on the bleachers.

I never did get to see his paper plane hit the ground, but perhaps that's for the best. His somewhere like ours - is a place he needs to discover on his own. And there may be no way to tell for sure where he'll land, but I have a feeling it'll be somewhere worth flying to...d, but I have a feeling it'll be somewhere worth flying to...

YEARBOOK

This year, we had a rookie team that met every second day, bringing fresh ideas and developing a concept of what we wanted this Yearbook to represent.

We were presented with new challenges, learning photography, design layout, composition and a totally new technical language to make sure we produced the best possible product to capture a snapshot of what Glenlawn Collegiate was all about.

We proudly earned recognition for our collaborative hard work with a 1st Place finish for Yearbook Covers among all Manitoba High Schools (special thank you to Luciano L.). Special mention to Co-Editors, Gift and Dina, for spending countless hours to make sure the Yearbook will look amazing! Along the way, our team struggled, laughed, and overcame the challenges, learning to meet deadlines to ensure that everyone was represented.

We did our very best to capture all the school has to offer and the energy at Glenlawn. Job well done everyone!

Middle (L-R): Pauline C., Candace X., Bruce W., Devin C., Jas H., Mr. Mendoza
Missing Kassandra R., Rebekah A., Luis C.

The Yearbook Class successfully finished the yearbook with many accomplishments; such as winning 1st Place in the Provincial Competition for yearbook covers. We met every second day of the week all year and listed all the events and sports we needed to include in the yearbook. All the students worked hard in taking pictures and organizing pages with their own creativity and choices with the help of Mr. Mendoza. Building the yearbook requires a lot of time and effort and the team effort by the Yearbook class made it possible.

Your 2017 GCI Yearbook Team

I had the great opportunity to work alongside Mr. Mendoza as the co- editor this year.

It was a long and busy year, and I'm so happy with our collaborative efforts we put into the book. As I graduate, I wish the Yearbook team for next year good luck. I would like to thank the Yearbook class for their hard work and a special thank you to Mr. Mendoza for giving me the immense honour of receiving the Yearbook Scholarship and giving me my Graduate diploma at the Graduation ceremony.
